Foes Square Off On Loyalty Oath In Medic Election

Two Slates Of Nominees To Contend For Offices

Two slates of nominees will contend for offices in the Marin Medical for next year, with the division being on the society's attitude toward the California Medical Assn.'s so-called loyalty oath.

Nominations closed at last night's meeting of the society at the Meadow Club in Fairfax. Election will be by mail ballot, with results to be tabulated for the society's Nov. 7 meeting.

At issue between the rival tickets will be whether the society should support its delegates to the California Medical Assn. in refusal to sign the oath. Society members at a Sept. 5 meeting voted 68 to 66 to back such refusal.

Dr. Ira H. Degenhardt of Ross, the nominating committee selection for president-elect, will be opposed by Dr. J. Lyman Hurlbut of Larkspur, who twice has refused to sign the oath as an alternate to the California Medical Assn. house of delegates.

Hurlbut heads an "anti-oath" slate placed in nomination by Drs. Michael J. Franzblau, Joseph M. Guthrie, Thomas W. Stone and Elmer A. Weden Jr.

Hurlbut said the rival slate was placed in nomination because "the nominating committee did not discharge its obligation in selecting nominees for delegates to the CMA. All three delegates are to be elected this year.

Despite the 68-to-66 membership vote to back a delegate's refusal to sign the oath, the five doctors placed in nomination by the nominating committee have all indicated they would sign the oath, Hurlbut said. They are Drs. William M. Edwards Jr., M. Alden Van Pelt and Dallas L. Wagner of San Rafael, Robert L. Mills of Ross and Robert C. West of Corte Madera. A sixth choice of the nominating committee, Dr. Eugene P. Shatkin, withdrew his name.

"Anti-oath" nominees for delegates are Drs. Sam Hanzel and Duval B. Jacobs of Kentfield and Joseph A. Moore of Mill Valley.

For secretary-treasurer, Dr. Margaret S. Filante of Kentfield was nominated by the "anti-oath" group against Dr. John McGee of Ross, the nominating committee's choice.

Two directors are to be elect-

Fireman Has Praise For Tam District

Tamalpais Fire Protection District commissioners last night read a report from Volunteer Arthur L. Crebassa stating that from Tamalpais Valley alone there is "an effective fire fighting force of 23."

This includes, Crebassa said, six new volunteers added to seven active volunteers, the paid firemen and the civil defense volunteers.

Five of the seven volunteers signed a letter to the board saying there is no incompatability with Chief Herbert Owen and that they are mainly interested in fighting fires and "not popularity contests," commission chairman John L. Donhoff reported.

The board discussed two sets of rules and regulations for the district and the fire department, hearing recommendations for amendments by commissioner Donald J. Taylor. The amended rules and regulations are to be up for adoption at the board's next meeting, Oct. 17.

The commission completed discussion of a letter sent by the "concern committee" and first discussed Sept. 19. No action was taken on it.

GOV. EDMUND G. BROWN
At news conference today

Brown Rips High Spending By Lobbyists

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown accused lobbyists of high-spending practices and called on the legislature today to investigate.

Brown defended the lawmakers against charges that lobbyists used call girls to help influence members during the recent session.

But he told his news conference:

"I do think the lobbyists are spending too much money in Sacramento, and their function of informing has gotten out of hand."

The governor said he knew of no corruption. In fact, he said "we have a good legislature" and he regretted what he termed the unproven broadside charges involving prostitutes.

At the same time, he said "I wouldn't be frank if I said the situation was good." He said he was talking about the amount of pressure exterted by lobbyists for or against legislation.

Brown said the Senate and Assembly lobby control committees should take a "good hard look" at the activities of some of the more than 400 representatives of private interests.

The legislature, he said, is competent to make its own investigation.

The governor said the call girl matter was "minor" compared with some of the important bills that were defeated. He California Biggest? Not So, Says U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau listed New York today as the No. 1 state in population as of July 1, but a bureau official said cautiously that there is enough room for error to put California in the top spot.

The "provisional estimate" gave New York state a lead of 118,000—17,708,000 to 17,590,000—although the bureau spokesman said this easily could be wiped out when more accurate statistics are received.

In any case, the spokesman said, there appears little doubt California will be on top by mid-1964 if trends are maintained.

Some months ago Californians, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown, claimed California had replaced New York at the head of the list.

"We are familiar with the estimates prepared by the State of California," the spokesman said, "and we have great respect for their statisticians.

"However, we are not sure

EGGS STOLEN —PLANS FOR HALLOWEEN?

They're stocking up on eggs for Halloween.

John W. Seamas, plant manager for Foremost Dairy, reported to San Rafael police yesterday that 33 dozen eggs were stolen from the plant at 648 Lindaro Street between 6 and 11 p.m. Wednesday.

The eggs were in two unlocked trucks which were parked in a fenced area.

Seamas said about the same number of eggs were stolen last year, just prior to Halloween.

Bodega Head Quake Fault 'In Bedrock'

Seaborg Discloses New Findings At Nuclear Plant Site

WASHINGTON (AP)—The office of Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), said today it has learned that an earthquake fault penetrates the bedrock on which Pacific Gas and Electric Co., proposes to build a 61-million-dollar nuclear power plant at Bodega Bay.

Opponents of the plant contend a major earthquake along the fault—the same San Andreas fault which struck at San Francisco in 1906—would pose a peril in spilled contaminants.

NEW FINDINGS

The office of Senator Engle, who is hospitalized with a brain ailment, said the new finding on the earthquake fault was reported by Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

It quoted Seaborg as informing John Carver, assistant secretary of the interior, in a letter dated Thursday, Oct. 3:

"Subsequent to the period covered by your report on geology, a fault was observed in the sediment above bedrock. The excavation now has reached more than 40 feet below sea level and within the past few days it has been found that the fault extends into the bedrock at the location of the proposed plant."

REPORT ASKED

Engle's office quoted Seaborg as asking for a further report on geological aspects of the fault.

The senator's office also quoted Dr. J. P. Eaton, the U. S. Geological Survey's seismic hazard investigator, as saying in an Interior Department report to Seaborg:

"The case arguing the safety of the Bodega Head site rests largely on the confidence that

Owner Guilty In Rental Of Duplex

A Mill Valley man was convicted by a jury in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for the crime of renting a duplex in a single family residential zone.

Loyal C. Davis, of 316 Miller Avenue, was found guilty after a three-day trial, one of the few cases on record where a city has resorted to criminal procedures to enforce a zoning ordinance.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson set Wednesday for pronouncement of judgment, which could include both a fine and jail sentence, but moves are expected either for a new trial or for an appeal to the Marin County Superior Court.

The verdict by the jury of five men and six women (a seventh woman became ill on

Delay For Almcrants; Meeting Probe Asked

Request Is Sent To Jury

A Mill Valley property owner has asked the Marin County Grand Jury to investigate "subcommittee" meetings of the Mill Valley Council in San Francisco.

Mrs. B. R. Randolph of 52 Bigelow Avenue, also claimed that actions by the council and planning commission in Mill Valley have eroded property rights of citizens and that citizens have been denied the right of free speech at council meetings.

'NEED HELP'

"We cannot stop these and other abuses without your help," Mrs. Randolph said in a letter to grand jury foreman Edwin A. Wells. "Our rights as citizens are being ignored by the attendance of Sheeks, Wornum and Secor in Monardo's office."

(Joseph E. Sheeks is Mill Valley's mayor; Michael Wornum, William M. Secor and George D. Monardo are councilmen. "Subcommittee" meetings have been held in Monardo's office at Franklin Hospital, of which he is administrator.)

LAND OWNER

Randolph, a retired automobile dealer, owns land fronting about 600 feet along East Blithedale Extension, a major entrance to Mill Valley between Camino Alto and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks.

Mrs. Randolph said use permits for a service station and a used car lot for parts of the property have been turned down by the city council. The land is zoned for light industrial uses.

"Some of the actions took us by surprise," she said, "but we have no way of knowing whether or not they were discussed in secret prior to announced meetings."

Mrs. Randolph said she had a specific complaint against Wornum, an architect. She said Wornum designed a shopping center for one large parcel, and the project gained partial approval from the council.

Three weeks later, however, the council, including Wornum, voted to install a centerstrip down East Blithedale Avenue, cutting off access for customers from most of Mill Valley, she claimed. The shopping center was never built.

Escaped Convict Found After Year

REDDING (AP) — Robert G. Burnham of Redding, who escaped from a San Quentin Prison work camp in Siskiyou County more than a year ago, was captured last night in a bar in Widow Valley, Modoc County

He was alone and surrendered without a struggle.

Burnham, 35, was serving a six months to 14 years sentence for passing bad checks. He told deputies it took him seven days to walk out of the wilderness.

MEDAL FOR HERO 18 YEARS LATE

A small boy, an older man and a member of the clergy, all unidentified, look on as President John F. Kennedy pins the Bronze Star on V. A. (Cotton) Ashworth of Russellville, Ark., at Heber Springs, Ark. Ashworth earned the medal 18 years ago during World War II for rescuing three wounded infantrymen from a mine field at night in Germany. A mixup in Army daily reports brought about the delay. The president pinned on the medal yesterday after dedication of Greer's Ferry Dam in the Ozark foothills. (AP Wirephoto)

Policeman Reserves Opinion On Reserves

The City of Novato today had on hand one police uniform, complete except for trousers.

He hasn't decided whether he'll go back to fill the uniform, said Leo C. Slodonick of 15 Ravenswood. Maybe he'll just offer shirt, tie, gun belt, jacket and helmet for sale.

Slodonick was one of a dozen men who appeared at the Novato Community Hall last night to be sworn in as Novato's first reserve police.

When he got there, however, City Administrator J. Julien Baget said he couldn't swear in Slodonick because his medical examination report had not been received.

There were varying versions of what followed. Some who were present said the air was blue with invective, voiced by Slodonick. The almost-policeman said he didn't remember calling the city administrator anything except "a bottleneck in the administration."

Anyhow, Slodonick took off helmet, jacket, gun belt, tie and shirt of his brand new uniform — in that order — and slammed them down on the counter in Baget's office. Then he walked out, fuming.

"Baget singled me out when I know that the report on another reserve, Paul Knaus, was not in, and mine had been mailed several days ago," Slodonick said.

Dr. Leo F. Wagner, who made the examinations, confirmed this. He has not yet

Jordan's Opinion On Ouster

A. E. Almcrants, city manager of Mill Valley, cannot be fired at a special Oct. 21 meeting of the city council, City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said today.

"They (the council) could suspend him at that point and declare intention to terminate his services and deliver to him the statement of charges," Jordan explained.

HEARING REQUEST

The city manager ordinance reads, Jordan continued, that Almcrants has the opportunity to request a public hearing after examining the charges.

"It is after the public hearing that the council can take action toward terminating his services," said the city attorney.

"If within seven days after the charges are delivered, he does not request a public hearing they (the council) can terminate his services without a public hearing. According to the ordinance, the charges must be delivered at a legal council meeting."

MONDAY MEETING

Jordan said that if the council takes the matter up Monday night, its next regular meeting, presumably then it could hold the public hearing Oct. 21 if Almcrants asked for it.

Almcrants, city manager for 12 years, resigned a week ago today. But he withdrew his resignation Monday at a special council meeting following many pleas to do so from citizens in a packed council chamber.

Three councilmen, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, William M. Secor and George D. Monardo, announced they plan to fire Almcrants Oct. 21.

CITIZENS GROUP

A group of citizens, the "people's committee for better government," will hold its first meeting at 6:30 p.m. today at 206 East Blithedale Avenue to discuss the Almcrants situation.

Jordan also said today, upon questioning by the Independent-Journal, that he does not recall ever getting a specific request from the council for a formal opinion on legality of subcommittee meetings at Franklin Hospital or elsewhere until yesterday, when Council-

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Freed Czech Bishop May Go To Rome

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Prague Archbishop Josef Beran, freed from 14 years of Communist confinement in Czechoslovakia, may come to the Ecumenical Council, high Vatican sources said today.

Beran

The news of Beran's release came last night out of the Vatican and then out of Czechoslovakia itself.

It spurred hopes that the other famous churchman still in Communist confinement—Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary—eventually may leave his exile in the U.S. legation in Budapest and go to the West.

Along with the 74-year-old Beran, the Czechs announced the release of four bishops—the last churchmen of that rank still held in Czechoslovakia after a campaign of repression that began in 1948, after the Communists seized power.

Plea Of Innocent To Fake Securities

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Erwin B. Arvey, son of Chicago Democratic leader Jake Arvey, says he'll plead innocent to charges of transporting more than a half of million dollars worth of fake securities across state lines.

Arvey

Arvey, 44, was arraigned before a U.S. Commissioner yesterday. Bail was set at $100,000. However, at a later hearing, the bail was reduced to $25,000, which Arvey posted immediately.

He was released pending a hearing here Oct. 24.

The FBI arrested Arvey yesterday morning at a Beverly Hills hotel. Agents said he gave a Los Angeles bank 550 bogus $1,000 bonds as security in apply for a $440,000 loan.

The FBI said the bonds were counterfeits of those issued by the General Motors Acceptance Corp., a General Motors car-financing organization.

Venezuela Red 'War'

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela's Communist party declared "open war" against the government yesterday night shortly after its suspension as a political party was upheld by the Supreme Court's political tribunal.

A statement distributed to newspapers and congressmen called for a popular united front to oppose what is called Venezuela's military rule.

Those Other Quints

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — The Prieto quintuplets, 27 days old today, will be kept in the hospital for at least two more months, their doctor reports.

Dr. Regulo Pachano said last night the five boys are in good health but they will remain in the hospital to assure them of adequate medical attention. All are still in incubators.

Peace Corps Arrives

Indonesia Missiles

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian antiaircraft forces test-fired newly acquired guided missiles at an unidentified location yesterday, the Air force announced.

A top-ranking air force officer told the official news agency Antara the missile can shoot down any type of plane.

Trouble Near Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The U. S. Army has flown 20 more men into the enclave of Steinstuecken to counter harassment of the U. S. patrol there by East German border guards.

For several days the guards have been throwing stones at the three-man U. S. military police patrol in Steinstuecken, a 30-acre hamlet which belong to the American sector of West Berlin but is surrounded by Communist territory.

Burned Girl Is Improving

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An 8-year-old crippled girl, severely burned over nearly half of her body, was reported to be in "pretty good" condition at San Francisco General Hospital today.

The girl, Cathryn Reeves, had been given only an even chance of living after her dress went up in flames Tuesday, but doctors at the hospital reported that she had improved.

Police were still investigating the cause of the accident. One witness said two small boys had thrown a burning matchbook on the girl, another said the girl herself had been playing with matches which fell onto her lap.

Dangerous Campaigner

President Is Unruffled By Gov. Faubus

Arkansas Leader Puts In Plug For States Rights

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Apparently unruffled by Gov. Orval E. Faubus' criticism of his civil rights program, President John F. Kennedy told an Arkansas audience the "New South" will contribute to greater equality of opportunity for all Americans.

Faubus introduced the president yesterday at the dedication of Greers Ferry Dam near Heber Springs. He advocated states' and individual rights and said it is a constitutional wrong to abridge these rights "even though the effort to abridge or destroy may masquerade as civil rights."

NO ANSWER

The president, sitting five feet from the governor, didn't react to the remark. Nor did he answer Faubus in his speech dedicating the dam, part of a system of hydroelectric and flood control dams in the White River Basin.

But an hour later at the Arkansas Livestock Exposition in Little Rock, Kennedy told an integrated audience that equal rights for all citizens is "the grand objective of all our progress and policies."

'NEW SOUTH'

He said he hoped, "This state and others like it will associate together to provide a fairer opportunity to all Americans.

"This great new South contributes to a great new America and . . . you can look forward to the day when we shall recognize no South, no North, no East, no West, but 'one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

At Heber Springs, Faubus praised Kennedy as a great conservationist. Kennedy responded with a promise to do even more in the field of natural resources.

Kennedy returned to Washington last night.

Army Defector Gets Hard Labor

WUERZBURG, Germany (UPI) —A U.S. soldier who spent nearly three years in Communist East Germany and the Soviet Union has been sentenced to one year at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge, the Army announced today.

Pfc. Bruce F. Davis of Scottsdale, Ariz., pleaded guilty to charges of desertion.

The 27-year-old soldier left his infantry unit in August, 1960, and crossed into East Germany. He was taken to the Soviet Union, where he was kept under close surveillance, the Army said.

Davis returned voluntarily to West Germany last July.

Attorney In Antioch Is Appointed Judge

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Richard E. Arnason, Antioch attorney, was appointed a judge of the Contra Costa County Superior Court by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today.

Arnason, 42, a Democrat, succeeds Judge Hugh H. Donovan, who retired.

HONDURAS

Resistance Is Reported In Honduras

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—A few pockets of resistance were believed holding out in the little banana republic of Honduras today despite victory claims by military leaders who ousted President Ramon Villeda Morales in a bloody revolt.

The deposed president arrived by plane in Costa Rica last night, landing at the Pacific Coast city of Punta Arenas. He was accompanied by Modesto Rodas Alvarado, his candidate for president in the Oct. 13 election.

As president of Congress for the past five years, he had worked constantly to bring the virtually autonomous army under civilian control.

Despite the military junta's victory claim, an army communique indicated civil guardsmen in two towns in western Honduras-Santa Barbara and Octopeque-were still loyal to Villeda Morales. A broadcast demanded their surrender.

Twenty civil guardsmen were reported killed and 50 wounded in a four-hour battle in downtown Tegucigalpa. The army reportedly suffered two dead.

The coup was the fourth such military takeover in Latin America this year, and occured despite a U.S. warning to Honduran military leaders that the United States opposes unconstitutional seizure of power.

Death In Africa

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The Katangese-Angola border town of Dilolo was reported quiet today after two days of rioting which left four African dead — including one policeman.

FBI Informer Says Report Was Rewritten

NEW YORK (AP)—An FBI informer, testifying in the Advance Youth Organization hearings, says a report by him was re-written by an FBI agent before he signed it.

The witness, Warren Lee Bellefond of San Jose, Calif., made the statement during cross-examination Thursday by Mrs. Mary M. Kaufman, counsel for Advance. Atty. Gen. Robert E. Kennedy seeks to have the organization register as a "Communist front."

Bellefond, 24, said the report, dated Feb. 15, 1960, was rewritten by the agent because he made certain security mistakes.

Mrs. Kaufman continued to show Bellefond reports signed by him, and he often acknowledged that the words in the report were not all his.

Oran Waterman, department of justice attorney, then said that reports sometimes had to be altered slightly for security reasons. For example, Waterman said, a report written in the first person had to be put in the third person.

Theodore Friedman, an earlier witness cross-examined yesterday, said the FBI paid him $35 to $40 a month to inform on meetings of Advance. Friedman is from San Jose, Calif.

Friedman said he stopped informing the government around May, 1960, when he moved to California. He said he was a member of the organization from February until June, 1960.

Guerrillas Killed

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (UPI) —A police patrol surprised a Communist guerrilla band near Piritu, Falcon State, last night and killed two of them, police said today. The other guerrillas escaped.

Policy Against Nuclear Arms In Space Wins Endorsement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A new East-West agreement in principle to outlaw nuclear-armed space satellites will be translated soon into a public U.S.-Soviet pledge, U.S. diplomatic sources predicted today.

"Agreement on policy . . . against nuclear weapons in orbit" was announced by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home last night as they wound up a week of talks.

Gromyko has an appointment with President John F. Kennedy next Thursday. He is expected to talk with Kennedy and Rusk in Washington about this and other possible follow-ups to the limited nuclear test ban treaty, plus items of direct concern between the United States and Russia.

The Big Three foreign ministers put off for later negotiation the earth-bound disarmament plans on which they have been unable to agree. These plans, including a proposed East-West nonagression pact and observer exchange, got tangled up with the thorny Germany-Berlin issue and have yet to be sorted out.

But in a joint four-sentence communique, the three saw potential accord in space.

Noting that Kennedy and Gromyko in their U.N. General Assembly speeches last month endorsed a ban on orbiting nuclear weapons, they said, "There is agreement on policy which it is hoped can be given appropriate form in the near future."

U.S. diplomats said today they expect the United States and Russia will soon follow through with a formal public declaration against orbiting nuclear weapons. They predicted it would not be difficult to work out an agreed wording.

GOP Can Win Nine States In South, Knowland Says

LOS ALTOS (AP)—Former Republican Sen. William F. Knowland said yesterday he believes the GOP could capture nine Southern states in the 1964 presidential election.

Addressing 300 members of the Los Altos chapter of the United Republicans of California, Knowland cited what he called "growing disenchantment with the 'whiz kids' in Washington who think the Constitution is antiquated" in the South and throughout the nation.

The former Senate majority leader said the Republicans could carry Florida, Alabama, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia and Texas.

Knowland added that Republicans in Tulsa, Okla., told him that Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), or someone like him, could carry that state by 150,000 votes.

Knowland, who heads the Goldwater Advisory Committee in California, voiced a plea for party unity and repeated his preference for the Arizona senator as the Republican presidential nominee.

Rather Bad Day For The English

Fairfax Recreation Director Ronald C. Samet has challenged an Englishman's belief in his country's yachting supremacy.

Boasted Samet's English cousin before embarking with his family and Samet on a cruise from Southampton, on Sept. 21:

"There's nothing the Yanks can teach us about the sea and ships. That's one thing we know all about."

Samet, who lives at 1100 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, is on an eight-month tour of Europe. The account of his yachting adventure with his cousin, Robert Samet, appeared in the Sept. 23 edition of the Brighton Evening Argus.

The family group set off for a cruise in the English Channel. All was going well until first one and then the second engine on the 30-foot cabin cruiser failed.

The anchor was dropped and Samet, according to the newspaper, said, "While we Americans don't know much about the water, I guess I can row the dinghy to the beach for help."

Samet rowed to shore, passed the word, and the Worthing

RONALD C. SAMET
Aided in rescue

Yacht Club's rescue crew responded. But the boat was too heavy to be towed by the yacht club's craft. Robert's wife and his two children were taken ashore and the two men sat out the night on the boat.

Help came in the morning in the form of a French yacht which loomed out of the fog. The owner of the French yacht repaired the engines.

The newspaper quoted Robert as saying: "Ron is on holiday from America for a year and we were all out for a joy ride. I did so want to show him how the British did it. Goodness knows though, what he thinks of us now."

Problems Of Special Districts Outlined

Special districts—of which Marin has a fair share—are beginning to choke efficent and responsible government in the Bay Area, a University of California study held today.

The study, "Special Districts in the San Francisco Bay Area: Some Problems and Issues," was prepared for the Assn. of Bay Area Governments by Stanley Scott and John Corzine of the university's Institute of Governmental Studies.

The are nearly 500 special districts in the nine-county area, and Marin has 95 of them.

"It is clear that their very profusion has created problems of public awareness understanding and control," the Scott-Corzine report concludes.

Sometimes, the report states, the districts are justified where "there is a clear need that connot be better satisfied in some other manner." Generally, however, the districts arouse little interest among voters, offer services which could be offered by larger governing bodies, and merely succeed in confronting the taxpayer with "a maze of tax rates," according to the report.

Under a new state law, every county must have a local agency formation commission empowered to review new proposed districts, incorporations and annexations. Although existing districts won't be affected by the new law, local governments should "highlight problem areas, examine them in detail and recommend solutions," the researchers suggest.

The Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government plans to concentrate on district problems during 1963-65.

Legislation this year also established a state-wide Coordinating Council on Urban Policy to "identify and analyze changing trends and needs of local government in urban areas . . . and defining the complementary roles of state, cities, counties and special districts."

The report says in most cases, a special district performs only one function of a "municipal type." Although the special districts were provided by law to serve urban communities without city governments, "they are most often found on the fringes of incorporated areas and within some of the newer and smaller cities."

One of the chief problems in control of special distrcts is the lack of interest in them by the voters. A sample of elections in the Bay Area last year showeda median turnout at special district elections of 27 per cent of the registered voters, compared to 45 per cent for city elections and 67 per cent for county elections.

District elections, such as in fire protection districts, are often canceled because there are no contests, and incumbents are re-appointed by county supervisors. (Only one such of Marin's eight fire districts, Tamalpais, held an election this year even though proposed elections were announced in all eight.)

Adverse effects on local government result often from the special districts, the report states, for suburban areas sometimes adopt the districts permanently, thus decreasing interest in annexation to a central city. The districts also "interfere" with coordinated planning.

Public apathy toward the "minimal responsibility" of districts leads sometimes to inefficiency and irresponsibiltiy in their administration, the researchers continue.

Statistics published in the 39-page report indicate that Marin has few competitors among the nine counties for keeping an extensive patchwork of special districts.

The county leads in the number of community services districts (seven), sanitary districts, (12) and sewer maintenance districts (13). Marin has 18 lighting districts, a close second to Contra Costa's 19.

Among the few types of special districts which Marin does not have are police, cemetary, garbage disposal, and water conservation.

Republican Assembly Congratulates Clausen

The assembly also voted Clausen into its group as an honorary member. Clausen represents the California First Congressional District, which takes in all the coastal counties from Marin north to the county line.

New Education Magazine Is Out

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Department of Education has a new official publication.

The first monthly issue of "California Education" was distributed yesterday to school administrators, local school officials, librabries and news media.

It replaces the monthly "California Schools" and the quarterly "California Journal of Elementary Education."

The magazine's yearly budget is $30,000.

Mill Valley Teen Center Gaining

It moved, figuratively speaking, much closer to Project 17 last night when six Mill Valley citizens said they would guarantee to pay for moving the building, filling a site for it at Project 17 in the marshlands, and placing it on a new concrete foundation.

One citizen, Walter A. Smith, plunked down $100 cash on a table, saying the money would go toward a fund of $25,000 which is hoped to be collected toward the center's installation.

It is to be recommended to the city council Monday, Councilman George D. Monardo said today, that the city immediately advance $10,192 toward moving of Charles Mowers' gift building, which housed the Colonel's Ranch Wagon, a restaurant, from Highway 101 to the proposed new site.

Of this money the city has already appropriated $6,000 in its current budget. The $10,192 would be "loaned" on a 120-day basis, with money to be raised by citizens in repayment.

These persons each guaranteed $1,000 to back the city's loan: Clay Underhill, manager, Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. in Mill Valley; Frank Keane of Keane and Ferrari Quality Meats; Joseph C. Brewster, parks and recreation commissioner; Bill Woods of Howard's Termite Control; William M. Secor, city councilman and youth activities committee member, and Smith of 78 East Blithedale Avenue.

Four other persons were to be sought today by members of the committee, according to Richard L. Parino, secretary.

Parino said Mowers has informed him the building must be moved at once so he may continue with development on the site. If it is not moved, it will be torn down, Parino said.

Parino reported the committee has decided to call the building the community and youth center. He added it would be moved on rollers over the hill in three pieces, resembling a "wagon train." He said the tri-sected center would have to rest on the top of the hill about three weeks while the concrete slab was constructed.

More Corte Madera Time Off 'Too Costly'

If town employees were given 16 hours off during the week for every weekend they are on emergency call in Corte Madera, it would cost the town $5,000 a year, Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said today.

This figure came out of discussion last night when a council committee heard a charge that Public Works Supt. Walter E. Nagel is violating the town personnel ordinance by giving no more than four hours off during the week to the employee who served stand-by the previous weekend.

Town gardener George Parapolo, representing the employees, said there should be more than four hours.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst and Councilman Norman R. Barnett, sitting as the public works committee, announced at the beginning of the hour-and-a-half session that they were not going to make any decision last night. That would have to be made when the full council meets Monday.

Brandow said, however, that councilmen were pleased with Paraspolo's offer to solve the tennis court problem. He said he and his assistant would open and close the courts and other park facilities seven days a week if they could be let off serving weekend stand-by.

GOVERNOR

Brown said he didn't blame Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk for investigating the call girl charges. The attorney general's report gave no names and said no legal violations were found.

The governor emphasized that the probe didn't produce any evidence which should result in indictments or criminal action.

On other subjects, Brown had this to say:

SENATE— He has made no committments for any appointments in the event that ailing Democratic Sen. Clair Engle resigns. The statement came in answer to reports that he would name State Controller Alan Cranston to the Senate and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh to Cranston's job. Brown praised both men but that was the extent of it.

TAXES — Criticized 12 California Republican congressmen for voting against President John F. Kennedy's tax cut proposal. The governor said they overlooked the fact that it would increase California's personal income by 3.5 billion dollars a year, and generate 404 million dollars in additional revenue "without one red cent" of new taxes.

EDUCATION — Said he thinks he has found a successor to Nathanel Colley, Sacramento attorney and Negro leader, on the State Board of Education. He would only say that the prospective appointee is a Northern Californian. Colley recently resigned but agreed to stay on until a replacement was found.

CRIME — Declared there's no organized crime in California. Brown said the state has too much crime, but the situation is not as bad as depicted by former Republican Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen of Los Gatos.

TRIP — Anounced he's leaving for Washington Monday enroute to represent President Kennedy at the inauguration of Argentina's new president. He'll return Oct. 15. With Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson out of the country, Senate President Pro tem Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) will be acting governor.

WATER —Said he intends to protect the water rights of Northern California against any plans to ship its water to Arizona, as proposed by Interior Secretary Stewart Udall.

UNIFORM

mailed the report on Knaus, he said today.

Kathleen Simpkins, deputy city clerk, said reports on Slodonick and Silas F. Riddell were received this morning. Both passed.

Knaus and Riddell were both sworn in, along with Ralph Luther, Robert A. Comaduran Jr., Calvin L. Mellor, Donald E. Hamilton, Lawrence Clark, Donald A. Borba, Walter H. Lockett, George W. Saunders, Gerald D. Fries, and Milton L. Bates.

It was the culmination of a long effort for them. Police Chief Roy McLaren—who was there to see the ceremony, and Slodonick's walkout — said applications for the police reserve have been accepted for more than two years, and the class started training early this year.

The men paid for their own uniforms, about $150 each. The city is to pay them back.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed mixed today in heavy trading.

The list backed away from early gains which, if held, would have put the market up to a new closing high.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5 million shares compared with 4.52 million yesterday.

man George D. Monardo asked for a written opinion on the meetings as they relate to the Ralph M. Brown Act.

This act states that meetings of all governmental bodies and their committees must be open except in the case of hiring, firing or bringing charges against an employee. Another state law requires that city council meetings must be held within the city. A Mill Valley ordinance says they must be held in the Mill Valley City Hall.

Jordan today said he remains on the opinion that it is legal for a subcommittee of the Mill Valley City Council to meet informally at Franklin Hospital "or in timbuctoo."

"A meeting of the kind I'm talking about," he said, "does not come within the terms of the Brown Act and would not have to be here within the city limits."

Asked to comment on the council's subcommittee meeting in San Francisco Sept. 26, at which councilmen present said they would "hang tough" for underground utilities on Miller Avenue under a "phase-out" scheme, Jordan said, "I would hate to comment on it unless I had been there and seen what had happened."

He said: "I'm going to outline what I think are permissible types of meetings which do not come specifically within the Brown Act and those which I think do, then leave it to the council to apply it to their actions."

the last day) ended a trial which followed a long-running dispute between Davis and the Mill Valley City Council.

The duplex, converted servants' quarters on what was once an estate, is at 460A Cascade Drive. Neighbors complained in 1961 after Davis installed kitchen equipment on the second floor of the house.

In a civil suit against Davis, Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. ruled May 13 that the stove and refrigerator and 220 volt wiring should be pulled out.

But neighbors complained again when they found out that a new upstairs tenant had a hot plate, a portable refrigerator and an electric frying pan. The criminal complaint was then filed.

In the trial, defense attorney Julius H. Salinger argued that the tenant was a "roomer," allowed by the zoning ordinance, and claimed the dispute was actually caused by one neighbor who had a grudge against Davis.

Hadden Roth, arguing for the city, said Davis had done his best to ignore orders by the city government. The jury took 50 minutes to reach a verdict.

About 17 million new homes will be needed during the 1960s in order to maintain present housing standards in this country, housing industry authorities predict.

OBITUARIES

Clarence Vogensen Dies At 50

Clarence Vogensen, 50, supervisor of buildings and grounds for the Novato Unified School District, died last night, apparently from a heart attack, while on vacation at Lake Pillsbury in Lake County.

Vogensen and his wife Virginia, of 100 Paladini Road, Novato, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ridgeway of 710 Orange Avenue, Novato, were camping at the lake when he became ill about 8 p.m., according to the Mendocino County sheriff's office at Ukiah. Vogensen was taken to Ukiah General Hospital by ambulance, but was dead on arrival.

He had worked for the Novato School District since 1952, in charge of the maintenance of all buildings and grounds. Prior to that he had worked for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., done carpentry and ranch maintenance.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Joseph and Ray, both in college, and Robert in West Novato School, and a daughter, Susan, in Novato High School.

The body was taken to Eversole Mortuary in Ukiah where an autopsy was to be performed today, according to the sheriff. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

"The case against the site stress seismology's lack of detailed information on events and conditions in the epicentral tract on a major earthquake. Because we cannot prove that the worst situation will not prevail at the site, we must recognize that it might."

Engle's office quoted Eaton, whom it referred to as an outstanding authority in his field, as saying the acceptance of Bodega Head as a site will set a precedent which would "make it extremely difficult to reject any proposed future site on the ground of extreme earthquake risk."

Before his illness, Senator Engle's position on the matter was that an open hearing should have been held before PG&E committed more than a million dollars as an investment into the project.

what figures they have been using for New York State."

The census bureau used up-to-date figures for births, deaths and other major factors, but had to make a rough estimate of migration between states.

Total U.S. population was given as 188,531,000, an increase of about 3.3 million since July 1, 1962. Since the April 1, 1960 census, the nation had added 9,208,000 or 5.1 per cent.

Pennsylvania was third in population with 11,424,000, Texas fourth with 10,323,000 and Illinois fifth with 10,182,000.

Two out of every three machine tools in metalworking in this country are at least 10 years old, a recent survey shows.

DANIEL HOOVER

Daniel Lee Hoover, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Hoover of 9 Mercury Avenue, Tiburon, was dead on arrival at 5:20 a.m. today at Marin General Hospital.

Asst. County Coroner William Bradley said the child had been ill with a lung congestion for the past two days. He said the child had a asthmatic condition.

The parents awakened today at 5:10 a.m., noticed the condition of the child and rushed him to the hospital.

BERTHA HALLGREN

Bertha O. Hallgren, 91, of 18 Serra Street, Corte Madera, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Hallgren, widow of Douglas Hallgren, had lived with her daughter, Helen Hallgren of Corte Madera for the past nine years. She was a native of Sweden.

Surviving are two daughters, Helen, and Mrs. Marion Anderson of Sebastopol; a sister, Gerda Gertsen of Mattapan, Mass., one grandchild and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at O'Leary Funeral Home, Sebastopol, with Rev. Gerald Garlid of the Marin Lutheran Church officiating. Burial will be in Sebastopol Cemetery.

RALPH TALBOT

Col. Ralph Talbot III, 51, of 12 Hunt Road, Terra Linda, died Wednesday in a San Francisco hospital of a heart attack —the same day his retirement from the Army after 30 years service became effective.

Talbot, who was born in Tennessee, lived in Marin County since 1959. He was head of supply for the Fifteenth Corps at the Presidio of San Francisco.

A graduate of West Point, Talbot served in World War II as a tank commander in the Third Army. He also served in the Korean War and was the first chief of the military aid mission to Montevideo, Uruguay.

He was a charter member of Terra-Marin Memorial Post 2660, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a member of Camp Knox Lodge 919, Free and Accepted Masons and Golden Gate Chapter No. 18, National Sojourners.

Talbot is survived by his wife, Colleen; three sons and one daughter, Capt. Ralph Talbot IV of Germany, George Talbot of Texas, Pfc. Robert P. Talbot of Louisiana and Mrs. Carol Gaddy of San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. C. B. Mitchell of Virginia, and his father, Brig. Gen. Ralph Talbot Jr. (ret.) of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Post Chapel, Presidio of San Francisco. Burial will be in San Francisco National Cemetery at the Presidio. The family prefers that tributes be contributions to Shriners Hospital.

RAYMOND STRANGE

Private family funeral services for Raymond F. Strange, 70, of 837 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, were held today at Keaton's Mortuary.

Strange was found dead in his bed Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. by his wife, Muriel. He died of a heart attack, according to Asst. County Coroner William Bradley.

A native of Pennsylvania, Strange lived in Marin County for the past 25 years. He was a retired distributor for the Texaco Co.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Miss Marilyn Strange of San Francisco.

FRANK MacCUBBIN

Funeral services for Frank Harrison MacCubbin, 37, of 214 Los Ranchitos Road, Los Ranchitos, who died yesterday, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection in Terra Linda.

MacCubbin, a supervising wire chief for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., had been employed by that firm for 17 years.

A native of San Francisco, he had lived in Marin County for seven years. He was a director of Lutheran Church of the Resurrection.

Surviving are his wife, Virginia; two sons, Steven G. and Donald M. MacCubbin of Los Ranchitos; his mother, Mrs. Edith MacCubbin of Corte Madera; a brother, Roland MacCubbin of San Rafael, and a sister, Virginia Y. Ceresa of Merced.

Burial will be private. Friends may call at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, until noon tomorrow. The family prefers that tributes be contributions to the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection.

HAITI HAMMERED AT BY HURRICANE

Defenseless Nation's Communications Cut Off; Storm Might Get Worse

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Hurricane Flora hammered Haiti with 140-mile-an-hour winds for nine hours today, isolated the Negro nation from the world and thrashed on toward eastern Cuba and the heart of the Bahama Islands.

When the wild night finally ended, defenseless Haiti still was being pounded by torrential rains and destructive floods almost certainly were raging down her mountainsides.

A sad story was expected to come from this thickly-populated tropic country when communications are re-established. Forecasters were worried also about what is yet to come.

Forecasters said there is no threat to the U.S. mainland, about 500 miles away, for at least two days, if at all.

The night-long battle with Haiti's mountains took some of the punch out of Flora, most vicious hurricane in two years. Its top winds had fallen from 140 to 115 miles an hour when it left Haiti behind and moved into the narrow windward passage.

It still was a well-organized storm, however, and once through the passage and into the open Atlantic could quickly regain strength.

A slowing in the forward movement of the hurricane left some doubt as to when it would get through the mountains of Cuba's easternmost Oriente Province and into the British Bahamas.

The big U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay was expected to come through the storm in good shape.

Captain Parnow, Mountanos To Discuss Speeding

Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos and Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol are scheduled to discuss speeding along Butterfield Road at a meeting of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. directors Oct. 17.

The law officers were invited to attend last night's meeting but were unable to attend because of prior commitments.

Mrs. Marie Bazell, recording secretary, reported that the job of sandblasting and repainting the association's pool will begin Wednesday.

Brown Commutes Slayer's Sentence To Life In Prison

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — William Lee Harrison, convicted murderer from Alameda County who was scheduled to die in the San Quentin gas chamber next Tuesday, was granted a commutation yesterday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The governor commuted the sentence to life imprisonment without possibility of parole, pointing out that new psychiatric evidence showed Harrison was suffering from "chronic brain damage."

Brown said he also acted on the basis of a letter from a juror saying the jury would have preferred life imprisonment without possibility of parole or death.

Harrison was convicted of first degree murder in Alameda County in 1962 for the slaying of Doris Ann Martin. Brown noted Harrison was placed under psychiatric observation as early as 1945.

The governor said latest tests confirmed brain damage that would give Harrison a lower threshhoid of excitability, make him more impulsive under stress, and leave him less able than a normal individual to handle his emotions.

Probation Given In Theft Case

Mrs. Margaret McKay, 62, was placed on two years supervised probation yesterday for stealing funds at Henrietta's Children's Shop, where she had worked seven years.

Mrs. McKay was arrested May 16 on suspicion of grand theft, but the charge was later reduced to petty theft because records of the shop were not clear enough to prove more than minor thefts. She stole the money by ringing up "no sale" when customers made purchases, and then pocketing receipts.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson ordered Mrs. McKay to make restitution to the store, but the amount was not set.

Camp Fire Girls 'Building Women'

(This is the last in a series of articles about various United Crusade agencies as seen through the eyes of persons who know of their work from personal experience. The author of today's article is Mrs. Ken Reichard, publicity chairman for the Marin County Camp Fire Girls, who writes about a prominent Camp Fire leader, Margaret Duncan Greene. Mrs. Greene is a counselor at the College of Marin.)

By GERRIE REICHARD

"Those who find pleasure in the out-of-doors will be better able to withstand the pressures of our fast-moving modern world."

This is the conviction of Margaret Duncan Greene, who became a Camp Fire Girl at the age of 11 and still believes in the principles of the Camp Fire program.

"One of the most important objectives of Camp Fire," she said, "is to encourage self-reliance in the out-of-doors, enjoyment of outdoor living, and appreciation of our need to preserve natural resources."

Mrs. Greene believes further that for girls, experiences in Camp Fire can lead to successful vocational choices.

This is literally true for Mrs. Greene, since as a result of her membership in Camp Fire and her camping experiences, she decided on a career. She majored in physical education at Mills College, working as a camp counselor during the summers. Later she took her master's degree at Columbia University and her doctorate at the University of California at Los Angeles.

After 15 years on the faculty of UCLA, Mrs. Greene returned to Marin and now is a counselor at College of Marin. She resides in Mill Valley with her two sons, Duncan, 17, a senior at Tamalpais High School, and Rogers, 13, an eighth grader at Edna Maguire School.

Since returning in 1955, Mrs. Greene has been active in the Marin County Camp Fire Girls. She helped with the summer camp program, screening and training the counseling staff, and is now group organization chairman.

An enthusiastic, natural person, Mrs. Greene contributes a great deal to our Camp Fire program in Marin County. She has a real love for children and in developing their sense of adventure.

More than any one I know, she is in a position to understand the importance of Camp Fire in a girl's life—its varied and imaginative program based on the principle set forth by Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, one of the Camp Fire's founders, who believed that "character is formed predominantly during leisure hours."

Mrs. Green's experiences as a Camp Fire Girl not only helped to determine her career, but also influenced her present-day interests. One of the skills she learned was canoeing, and she and her sons are now ardent canoeists. With the Peter Pell family of Mill Valley, they have used their re-built Oldtown canoes for trips on Tomales Bay, Bolinas Lagoon, the Russian River, the bays of Puget Sound, and the rapids of the Rogue River.

Mrs. Green has observed that canoeing is growing in popularity as a family activity, and she has some special recipes and suggestions for canoe trips, including tips on traveling light (and dry).

Mrs. Green's first canoeing was done on Austin Creek at Camp Thayer, the Camp Fire camp then at Cazadero in Sonoma County. She was a member of Mrs. Jennie Grace Green's group in Sausalito.

"Those were really picturesque days," she recalls. "Going to Camp Thayer meant a ride on the train with red cushion seats and a stop at every station to pick up a group of cheering girls. We also had fun at home in Marin, hiking to Jolly's Beach (now Fort Cronkite), stopping at Silva's ranch for fresh warm milk, or going over the Dipsea trail to Stinson Beach. Clam digging and going to the Mountain Play were on our calendar every year, too."

Our Camp Fire Girls today also have fun hiking, camping, learning skills, and taking part in the wide range of other activities that do so much for growing girls. We have some 2,500 girls in approximately 250 groups all over the county, with close to 700 volunteers working as leaders, sponsors and in administration. Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo Counties now form the Golden Gate Council of Camp Fire Girls.

Viet's Mrs. Nhu Due Mixed Reception In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, Vietnam's beautiful "Dragon Lady," will get a mixed reception on her visit here Oct. 28, two groups of her countrymen in San Francisco said today.

Mrs. Nhu has stirred controversy by calling American advisers in her country "little soldiers of fortune," and referring to Buddhist monks who burned themselves to death in protest against her brother-in-law's government "monk barbecue shows."

One group of San Francisco area Vietnamese, under the leadership of Viet Nam Army Capt. Nguyen Qui Than and including some 30 military personnel and students here under their government's sponsorship, said they're organizing an enthusiastic demonstration for her arrival.

Another group, led by V. L. Nguyen, a naturalized American citizen and restaurant operator, is printing placards for pickets. The cards read, "Madame Barbecue Go Away."

In 1962, 3,897 pleasure vessels were involved in 3,085 accidents, which resulted in 1,055 deaths, according to the United States Coast Guard.

ICBM Explodes, Burns At Base

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The Air Force says an Atlas F intercontinental ballistics missile, most advanced of the Atlas series, exploded last night seconds before its scheduled launch.

There was no immediate statement from Air Force officials on the cause of the explosion, and no injuries were reported.

Witnesses said the 82½-foot-tall missile exploded just as the engine was ignited.

Needy Student Fund To Be Given Money

The College of Marin Student Council has approved placing proceeds from the recent "kickoff" week activities into a fund for emergency student loans, Edward Hodges of Kentfield, associated students treasurer, announced today.

Hodges said $98.50 was raised from activities including an "auction" of the football team and yell leaders. The emergency loan fund is used mainly to help needy students buy books and supplies and is administered by the dean of students.

HE FINALLY GOT 100

Donnie Gilmore (left), an eighth grader at Everton, Mo., elementary school, was having more than a little trouble with spelling when his teacher, Mrs. LoVene Lampe, told him, "If you ever make 100 in spelling I'll stand on my head." Donnie got 100 Wednesday, and smiled broadly as his teacher paid off. (AP Wirephoto)

Respiratory Disease Fight Makes Progress

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — The evidence that the rhinoviruses are the common culprits in the common cold is now of such volume that many medical science authorities are confident of conquering this minor scourge of mankind before too long.

The newest contribution to the evidence was made by a group of scientists who studied "minor respiratory disease" as it appeared spontaneously among Marine Corps recruits undergoing basic training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Over a period of two years it appeared about 800 times. In each case the victim was swabbed thoroughly for viruses and the swabs were subjected to laboratory tests designed both to yield any viruses they contained and to identify those viruses.

Not all "minor respiratory disease" is clearly recognizable as the common cold, one must keep in mind. To guide them the scientists had the generally accepted tell - tale symptom of the common cold, which is "nasal obstruction or discharge" usually without fever.

From the recruits who had that primary symptom, the scientists usually got rhinoviruses. From some they got coxsackie virus group A, type 21, which is scientifically suspected of being a cause of the common cold.

But in the recruits who yielded adenovirus — still another suspect virus—the "minor respiratory disease" was less minor than in the others and involved more areas of discomfort.

A puzzling finding was that some young Marines with the primary common cold sympton yielded no viruses of any kind. This pointed up the immense difficulty in finding the cause or causes of the common cold, as the scientists remarked in in reporting to the New England journal of medicine.

"Illnesses" in the virus-negative group may have been caused by presently unrecognized viruses, non-viral infectious conditions or a combination of these possibilities," they said.

Furthermore, there can be undefined things in the state of being a Marine recruit and in the environment of a military "Boot" camp which could have influenced their results, they added in warning against a too-sweeping incrimination of the rhinoviruses.

The scientists were Drs. B. R. Forsyth, H. H. Bloom, K. M. Johnson and R. M. Chanock of the National Institutes of Health and the Navy.

Rhinoviruses form a group which has been identified only in the past few years. "Rhino" means nose, that being the organ where they habitually reside. Adenoviruses have glandular preferences and coxsackie family contains paralyzers and killers.

The scientific optimism regarding the common cold was reflected in this editorial comment of The Lancet, authoritative medical science journal:

"We are well on the way to unraveling the tiology (causes) of this disease." Once science has identified a causative virus it usually can produce a vaccine against it.

Importance Of Preventing Fire To Be Emphasized

For firemen throughout Marin County, next week is an important one and they want all residents to take note.

It is Fire Prevention Week. The firemen, working with the Marin County Insurance Agents Assn., will make a concerted effort in schools to show how important fire prevention is.

Kenneth Mazza, San Rafael fire marshal, is chairman of the fire prevention committee for the Marin County Assn. of Fire Chiefs. He said that third and fourth grade pupils in nearly all schools in the county will receive fire marshal badges, be told of home fire hazards and receive a checklist of common hazards.

Those pupils who use the list to inspect their homes and bring it back to school with all hazards checked off, will receive fire hats.

San Rafael Artist Wins For Painting

Alice B. Hyde of San Rafael has won a $100 purchase award for her painting, "The Golden Gate Bridge," at the San Francisco Arts Festival.

It Was An Easy Out For Team Of Firemen

The automobile was in front of central station when the front seat cushion started burning. Firemen stepped outside and put out the flames with a hand extinguisher.

The Department of Labor claims 24 billion new jobs will be required in the next decade to provide for those displaced by technical advancements. Additional new jobs will be needed to keep pace with the population growth.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Mrs. C. R. has suffered from atrophic rhinitis for 30 years. She developed this nasal condition at the age of 6 and is ". . . wondering what the outcome will be as I get older. How do you get this nose disorder? Is it contagious? Four members of our family have it. Will my children and their children inherit it? My doctor says there is no cure and washing out the nose with a bulb syringe is all that can be done."

In atrophic rhinitis, the lining becomes dry, thin, porous, and often crusted. Certain micro-organisms that produce a fetid odor find living conditions in these surroundings ideal. This is in contrast to what happens when infection occurs; the membranes become swollen and congested.

THE CAUSE of atrophic rhinitis is not known. It is more prevalent in some families, suggesting a hereditary background. More women than men are bothered and other nasal malformations often coexist. The basic cause may lie in arrested development of the membranes before birth. In others, the changes are secondary to years of infection which have left the membranes shrunken, pale, thin, and poorly nourished.

Most victims complain of dryness and crusting. An offensive odor may be present, which escapes detection if there is an associated loss of the sense of smell. But the people around the victim are most conscious of the odor. The nostrils may be completely occluded by the discharge and crusting. The condition is not painful but some individuals encounter a dull headache above the root of the nose, along with lassitude and mental depression.

MRS. C. R. has been given sound advice concerning the outcome and treatment. Irrigating the nose once or twice a day with a saline solution removes the crusted secretions. There are many ways of doing this, varying from the use of a fountain syringe to a nasal siphon. A tampon saturated with a variety of medications is inserted when the crusts cannot be removed by irrigation. A bland oil or mild astringent also helps soften the crusts.

The newer remedies include spraying hormones that tend to thicken the nasal membranes. Irrigating with a dilute solution of potassium permanganate lessens the odor. The antibiotics and sulfonamides give disappointing results.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

COUGH WILL CLEAR

G. K. writes: I don't have asthma but every time the doctor stethoscopes my chest, he hears wheezing. He didn't explain why or prescribe any medicine. Can you tell me what is wrong?

REPLY

He hears wheezing because a small plug of mucus is creating a partial obstruction of a bronchus. Cough, and the wheeze will disappear.

GOOD AND BAD DAYS

A. writes: Why does a person with arthritis feel good some days and terrible other days?

REPLY

That's the nature of this condition. The joints are influenced by activity, humidity, and temperature.

SAFE TO DYE

Mr. B. G. writes: Is it safe for a woman with high blood pressure to dye her hair?

REPLY

Yes, and her boy friend's blood pressure might go up if it makes her glamorous.

TAKE THEM ALL

J. R. writes: Is it better to take vitamins all at one time or wait a while after swallowing each?

REPLY

Citation Refused; Man Is Jailed

An assistant production manager for the Wall Street Journal was jailed by San Anselmo police early today when he refused to sign a speeding citation.

Police Officer Robert White spotted Harold Michael Ryan of 142 Domingo Avenue, Fairfax, speeding on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at 2:20 a.m. He gave chase with his red light and spot light on. White said Ryan's car hit 90 miles an hour between San Francisco and Broadmoor avenues.

Ryan finally stopped west of the Lucky Store on Center Boulevard in Fairfax. White said that Ryan thrice refused to sign a citation for speeding at 90 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

He was jailed for failure to give a written promise to appear in court, and subsequently released on $328 bail, with court appearance set for Monday.

Oakland Passes Apartment Plan

OAKLAND (UPI) — The city council has approved construction of a 25-story apartment building beside Lake Merritt, despite planning commission and neighborhood protests.

The council, including Mayor John Houlihan, voted 6-3 yesterday in favor of the project, planned for property at 565 Bellevue Avenue, owned by the Henry J. Kaiser Co.

It was the second time the council overruled the planning commission regarding the building.

Housewife Pulled From Gate Bridge

A San Francisco housewife who said her husband told her to "go jump off the bridge" was pulled from the lower girders of the Golden Gate Bridge last night by California Highway Patrol officers.

Mrs. Violet Leighton, 36, said she took a cab to the Marin side of the bridge after an argument with her husband. The taxi driver became suspicious when he left Mrs. Leighton and radioed his dispatcher to call the patrol.

Assessment Reform Talks Slated Oct. 25

Robert Scrofani, president of the San Francisco Committee to Reform Assessment of Private Property, will be guest speaker at the charter meeting of the Henry George School of Social Science Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, 507 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Compacts Popular

NEW YORK (UPI) — About one-third of all new cars sold in the United States last year were compact models, according to Volkswagen of America. The company also said more than 500,000 air conditioning units were installed in cars in this country in 1962.

Thailand Prime Minister Tells Of U.S. Shortcomings

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The prime minister of Thailand, a nation which is one of Uncle Sam's best friends, said yesterday the United States is full of good intentions but sometimes falls short of understanding how to do things in this part of the world.

In an interview, Field Marshal Sarit Thanarat indicated he thinks that Americans bruise feelings by the way they approach their cold war objectives. He urged greater efforts to "study the situations and the feelings here."

The strong man prime minister, who took over Thailand in a military coup six years ago and has been ruling it under martial law ever since, declined to be specific in complaints about the United States, which enjoys great popularity among the Thais.

"The United States has been helping a great deal to maintain peace and tranquility in this part of the world," he said. "But there is just one thing. If it could understand more fully the situations and the feelings of the people here, if it would study carefully the situation and the feelings here, it would be of great benefit.

"There are many things you Americans don't know. We appreciate the good intentions of the United States and we know they have good intentions, but it's a matter of appreciating differences of opinion."

What Sarit seemed to be driving at was the idea that the United States, in extending aid, supposedly was being too specific in suggestions of how the aid should be used. He said the Thais, jealous of their independence, tend to be sensitive.

Sarit's government at times has made neutralist-sounding noises when it was annoyed by U.S. policy. Thailand is keenly aware of the bigness of nearby Communist China and the threat of Red infiltration in Thailand's northeast provinces bordering Laos.

Condition Good

George Beander, 12, of 137 Suffield Avenue, San Anselmo, was in good condition today in Marin General Hospital with injuries he suffered when struck by a car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Wednesday. He was taken to the hospital in fair condition with a skull fracture and broken left leg.

Scientists Watch Auto Paint Chip

PLAINVIEW, N. Y. (UPI) — The new cars are bright and shiny—and stay that way—because laboratory technicians follow them out on the road to see how they perform.

The Grow Corporation, whose Detroit subsidiary supplies thinners for paints, lacquers and enamels to the auto makers, says its executives and technicians examine cars after many thousands of miles of exposure to the elements under actual driving conditions to learn how their products perform.

Formulas are constantly being revised and new ones added on the basis of their findings.

Lightning Bolt Starts Oil Fire

LOS BANOS (AP)—An oil fire ignited by a lightning bolt today is threatening to wipe out a Tidewater Oil Co. tank farm 12 miles southeast of Los Banos.

The bolt struck an oil tank at 2:30 a.m., causing it to explode and erupt into a tower of flames.

Rockefeller To U.S.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Pandora Restaurant Opens Tonight In San Anselmo By Owner Jim Pias

Owner Jim Pias of the new Pandora Restaurant opening tonight in San Anselmo promises that it will hold a more pleasant surprise for Marin diners-out than either of the two versions of Greek mythology in which the beautiful wife of Epimentheus opened the forbidden box. One of these was that she released all the ills of mankind upon the world. Another said that all the blessings of the gods escaped. Only hope remained.

Apparently neither story has ever discouraged restaurateurs from using the Pandora name which has become popular in many cities.

Serving hours will be from 4 p.m. to midnight. Pandora will be open five days a week—closed Monday and Tuesdays.

A DELECTABLE SALAD, homemade canneloni and a choice filet with plenty of vegetables and a baked potato—this is the sort of combination you are inclined to order at San Rafael Joe's. And it's that satisfying you'll probably return again for more of the same, or for one of Joe's many variations.

The canneloni is particularly delicious, and if you see it on the menu be sure to try it. The formula here is an old Italian one.

At Joe's the other night we encountered Ross realtor Hazel Field Pauline and a group soon to take off on an excursion to Spain. We couldn't help thinking that they may run across some interesting sights in their travels—but probably no better food. They'll be back at Joe's again on their return, I'm sure.

Golfers may not see Hector Rubini on the courses so much from now on. He and Nancy have bought a 2,000-acre ranch in Colusa County with two lakes on it, and eventually expect to raise black Angus cattle. When this occurs you'll know where the restaurant's steaks originated. Meanwhile he lights out for the open range at every spare moment.

New idea for his next costume appearance at Marin Golf and Country Club: Chef's hat, chaps and cowboy boots.

BOB'S OF MARIN in Corte Madera has a new manager—Armand (Ted) Allegra of Tiburon. Ted was formerly food service director in the Millberry Student Union at the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco.

The coffee shop at Bob's is open daily from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. for breakfast, lunch and dinner. The main dining room is kept open only from 5 to 9:30 p.m. for dinners Mondays through Saturdays. On Sundays it's open from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. for brunch and dinner.

YOU WON'T GO HUNGRY at tomorrow's Sunny Hills Grape Festival in San Anselmo. Even if you pick up your nourishment in snacks there'll be a variety. Here are some of the things in supply: 3,300 hot dogs, 3,000 tacos, 2,700 hamburgers, 1,500 turkey sandwiches, 1,000 meals-in-a-bun, 100 pumpkin pies, 1,500 ice cream "blobs," 5,000 cookies—and at least 1,200 pounds of grapes.

THE CALIFORNIA lobster season is now on, and lobsters are being caught off the coast from Santa Barbara to San Diego. Naturally you'll find this gourmet item at Sabella's. About next Tuesday here watch for little neck clams flown down from Bremerton, Wash. Specializing in seafoods the way it does, Sabella's closely follows the best seasonal specialty catches.

New banquet manager is Larry Bochino, for six or seven years at the Alta Mira Hotel and more recently at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. He'll handle your wedding receptions, parties and luncheons.

OPERATING THE Silver Dollar Inn at Point Reyes Station for the past month is Hank Dains who took it over from Bill Marshall. Hank was a police sergeant at Roseville for a number of years and has also been a school teacher.

His specialty here is an oak charcoal broiled dinner—in steaks, chickens and spareribs. Open seven days a week—for lunches from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., and for dinners from 6 to 9 p.m. There's a cocktail lounge. Fall is a lovely time for driving along the coast and you could include the Silver Dollar in your timing schedule.

PRIVATE PARTIES are being taken at the Red Room, Larkspur, during Mondays and Tuesdays—or luncheon groups any day. Remodeling will start here soon . . . We've discovered that organist Jean Denning is playing nightly at the Harbor Lights in Tiburon. There's a "cocktail hour" in the bar and lounge at the Country Club Bowl, San Rafael, with reduced prices on drinks from 4 to 6 p.m.

SURPRISE PACKAGE—Like the Pandora of Greek mythology, Cindy Lea registers consternation at the contents of the forbidden chest which will mark the opening tonight of the Pandora Restaurant in San Anselmo. The new restaurant is located at the site of the former Fleur de Lys and will be operated by James Pias of San Rafael.

Assembly Clerk Ohnimus Is Retiring

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The man who has been chief clerk of the California Assembly for 36 years is retiring.

Arthur A. Ohnimus was a deputy district attorney in San Francisco when he was first elected chief clerk in 1923.

He has held the post almost continuously since then. The only break was the period 1937-1940, when he did not seek re-election.

Tamalpais Stamp Club Elects

Donald McPherson of Corte Madera has been elected president of the Tamalpais Stamp Club, of which he was principal organizer.

Carl T. Endemann of Larkspur was elected vice president; Mrs. Gail D. Adams of Corte Madera, secretary; Edward J. Mullen Jr. of San Anselmo, treasurer, and Morris Michaels of San Anselmo, Albert De Mello of Corte Madera, and Mrs. Susan P. Joseph of Larkspur, trustees.

The officers will be installed by Everett Erle, president of the Council of Northern California Philatelic Societies, at the club's next meeting, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. at Redwood High School.

Red Skelton, Family Routed By Blaze

CATHEDRAL CITY (UPI) — Comedian Red Skelton and his family were routed from their home early today by a fire in a storage building adjoining their house.

Skelton said damage to camera equipment, paintings and other art works stored in the building would be at least $50,000. Cause of the fire was tentatively blamed on spontaneous combustion.

New Officers For Toastmasters

Patrick Leader, certified public accountant of San Rafael, has been installed as new president of the Marin Chapter of Toastmasters International.

He succeeds George McCoy of Belvedere.

Other new officers who will serve with leader: Herbert Schuyten of San Rafael, educational vice president; Harvey Stone of Mill Valley, administrative vice president; Dennis Hodgeson of Corte Madera, secretary; Roy Lohan of Novato, treasurer, and Allan Wadsworth of Sausalito, sergeant at arms.

Burma is rich in mineral wealth, including petroleum, lead, silver, tin, tungsten, zinc and gems.

'VIEW SITE' FOR APARTMENTS?

Boat Facilities To Be Inspected

Directors of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce will take to the water at Tuesday's meeting to inspect the waterfront and look at boating facilities.

Two members, Robert W. F. Severin and S. K. Herzog, will supply the boats. Directors will board at Loch Lomond Marina at 11 a.m., take a short run into the bay, and then go to Dominic's Harbor Restaurant for lunch at noon.

After lunch they will again board the boats to return to Loch Lomond.

Larkspur School Bond Vote Chairman Elected

James W. McClintock of Corte Madera was elected general chairman of a citizen committee for passage of the Larkspur School District's $375,000 bond issue last night.

The bond election has been set for Jan. 14. It follows defeat of a $700,000 bond issue June 4. If passed, it will provide funds to construct 10 to 12 classrooms in the district.

Named precinct chairmen were presidents of Parent-Teacher Assns. as follows: Neil Cummins School, Mrs. James W. McClintock; San Clemente School, Mrs. Mary Louise Simon; Larkspur-Corte Medarea School, Mrs. Beverly Carter, and Henry C. Hall School, Mrs. Michael Perrone.

Mrs. Marie Nichols was named chairman of the Recreation Center precinct.

School principals will assist the committee, and Robert Johnson, principal of San Clemente School, will be liasion between the committee and the district administration.

Others named to committee posts were Mrs. Rosemary Gicker, publicity; Robert J. Gicker, finance chairman; Mrs. Charles Young, brochure and fact sheet, and Leo Jarvis, registration drive.

California Teacher Group Hears Of Changing Trends

By BARBARA DONDERO
Redwood High Reporter

The California Teachers Assn., bay section, annual field conference Wednesday night at Redwood High School, was highlighted by a speech from Dr. John Goodlad, professor of education at University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. Goodlad's talk, "Education's Changing Trends," followed two hours of group meetings and talks of special interest to CTA members.

"The lofting of the Russian satellite Sputnik made us more aware of the need for curriculum change in America," the former head of teacher training at Columbia University said. "However, it goes centuries further back to the Renaissance when the doubting of knowledge began."

He said the major goal is attempting to keep the curriculum up to date by combining the most important bits of knowledge that is constantly growing.

"It must be learning built on learning," he stressed, "which is basically an old concept with a new look."

As far as the preparation of teachers is concerned, Dr. Goodlad emphasized that institutions in the 50 states are profoundly different; therefore no generalizations can be made because everyone has different views of these institutions.

"Students in teacher education are increasingly unhappy with the synthetic introduction course in education," he said. "Because the students rarely see children or even classrooms this course tends to drive students out of teaching rather than to bring them in."

Egg Yolk Color Does Matter

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Does the color of the yolk make any difference to egg buyers?

Dr. Quentin Banks, Kansas State University marketing economist, reports that a sample survey in St. Louis, Mo., showed 45 per cent of the customers preferred eggs with orange yolks over those that are lemon color. The remaining 55 per cent were evenly divided between dark and light-color yolks.

Banks said the study suggested egg sales could be boosted if cartons were labeled to show what color yolks the eggs had.

First Lady Phones Home

ATHENS (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has spoken to the president by telephone twice since her arrival here for a two-week private vacation, it was learned today.

But Athens circles dismissed rumors that Kennedy might join his wife here later as "wishful thinking." They attributed the rumors to political fever engendered by the forthcoming general elections here.

The telephone calls were among the first lady's few activities since arriving in Greece Wednesday.

She has been taking life easy in a seaside villa, leaving it only once for tea and sandwiches with the Greek royal family at their mountain-top summer palace yesterday.

Rafferty Asks Tests For School Teachers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dr. Maxwell Rafferty yesterday formally proposed that public school teachers be required to prove their mastery of reading, writing and arithmetic.

Rafferty, the superintendent of public instruction, made the proposal in a letter to the State Board of Education. The letter is part of the board's agenda for its meeting in Los Angeles Oct. 10-11.

Rafferty, who has mentioned the idea in the past, noted that new teacher credentialing requirements adopted by the board last spring already require potential teachers to prove their competence in composition, either by passing a college course in it, or by passing a special examination.

He recommended that the composition requirement be expanded to cover the "basic skills: English language usage including spelling, reading, arithmetic, and legible handwriting."

Since teachers already in the schools are not covered by the new credential requirements, Rafferty also suggested that local school districts be empowered to cite teachers who are not "fully competent" in the basic skills.

At the school district's request, the state would require these teachers to take "one of the approved tests." If the teacher afiled to pass, the state would suspend or revoke his teaching credential (license to teach).

Precautions Suggested For Disaster Mine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A potash mine near Moab, Utah, in which 18 men were killed in an explosion Aug. 27, should be operated as a gassy mine to prevent similar disasters, the Bureau of Mines said today.

This would require extra precautions to prevent future explosions caused by combustible gases.

Woman Leaps, Dies In Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 53-year-old woman was dead on arrival at Central Emergency Hospital early this morning after she apparently jumped from the second floor of a burning Pine Street apartment house.

The victim was identified as Louise Mitsuda of 2025 Pine Street.

The fire department responded to the three-alarm fire shortly after 2 a.m. and had the blaze under control within an hour.

Elopement Came Late

HOUSTON (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Scott today settled down to a normal married life following their elopement marriage. She is 82 and he is 87. "The wedding was exciting," she said. "We even had to get blood tests just like 16-year-olds."

Army To Search For Mines Buried In Palo Alto Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An Army ordnance detachment from the San Francisco Presidio will search an undeveloped Palo Alto area early next week for land mines buried in a World War II exercise.

The Army has dug up 18 mines in the area the past two years but 9-year-old Peter Towle has packed home two more. His most recent find was last Saturday.

"I knew what that one was," Peter said, "because I took the first one home and tried to whack it open with a hammer."

Peter is one of seven youngsters who have pulled mines out of the area.

Palo Alto police said the mines are eight-by-12-by-six-inch canisters. Each is believed to contain 12 pounds of TNT. Army spokesmen added that while the mines have neither detonators nor fuses, they could easily be set off by a sharp blow.

The Army has excavated the field several times and declared it cleared, but the youngsters continue to defy them.

The City of Palo Alto has its problems too, its leaders said: They have their doubts as to how easy it will be to develop the otherwise serene tract.

Home Building May Hit 1.5 Million Units

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The home building industry this year will match the 1.5 million units of 1955, according to the president of the National Assn. of Home Builders.

W. Evans Buchan yesterday told the closing session of the Mortgage Bankers Assn, convention that non-farm housing starts just through August reached 1.05 million units—almost 7 per cent ahead of last year.

OH, YEAH?

Sorry, Lady, You Can't Complain

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin has a new law today because a man forgot an adage: Never underestimate the power of a woman.

Nearly a year ago, Mrs. John Melsha, 35, a housewife from New Berlin in suburban Milwaukee, expressed interest in buying a used car. She took the car for a trial spin and then complained about the tires.

NO NEW RUBBER

"I had someone examine the tires and learned they were old, bald tires and grooves had been put in without adding new rubber to build up the tire," she said. "I contended this made tires too weak and made them dangerous to use."

Mrs. Melsha's complaints to the used car dealer were useless. He told her nothing could be done about regrooving of tires.

"I told him we'd see about that," said Mrs. Melsha, the mother of two children.

Mrs. Melsha's fight ended yesterday when Gov. John W. Reynolds signed into law a bill prohibiting the regrooving of worn tires in Wisconsin.

BATTLE TO CLUB

Mrs. Melsha took her battle first to the New Berlin Women's Club. Then she enlisted the aid of other women's clubs and safety organizations throughout the state.

Mrs. Melsha, whose husband works for an electrical contractor, convinced her assemblyman, Vincent Matthews of Waukesha, to introduce a bill.

Then she made two trips to the state Capitol in Madison to testify before legislative committees. She had support from women's groups, safety groups and the Wisconsin unit of the American Automobile Association.

Notified of the governor's action in signing the anti-grooving bill, Mrs. Melsha said: "What a thrill. What a night I'm going to have."

Then she headed for her women's club to report.

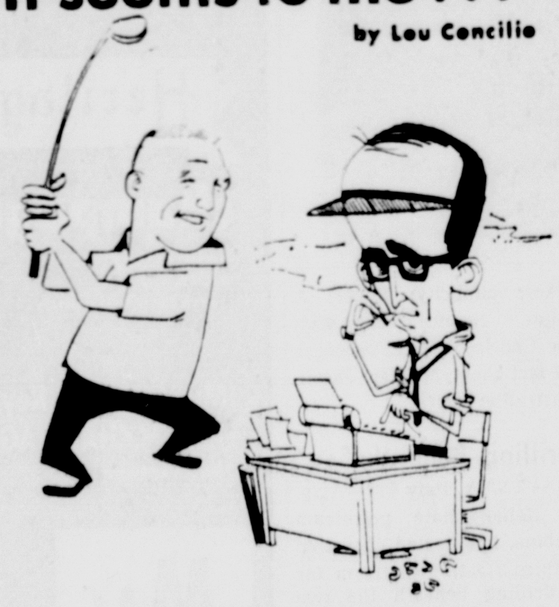

They're Trying Again

COVENTRY, England (UPI)—Fred Higley, 81, and Mrs. Florrie Oswin, 77, announced today they plan to marry Oct. 12, each for the fourth time. "I'm glad we set the date for the 12th," Mrs. Oswin said. "Each of my three husbands died after only 13 years of marriage. Thirteen is not my lucky number."

The Secret Weapon Is No Secret

From time to time we read of another speculation concerning the development of the Super Weapon—the Kill All. Following this first breathless bit of vague revelations from "an informed source", comes the deluge of weighty commentaries from the news analysts who will invariably predict total annihilation for all forms of life to a disappointing fizzle and pop in the initial test of the weapon.

Actually, for the enlightenment of these prognosticators, and to the disappointment of the editors who tire of bathing beauties to fill space, the real, genuine secret weapon has been with us all along—in fact, most everyone does, and has used it, starting at a very tender age. It is the Lie.

Harken back with me through the pages of history, you doubters! Find one war, one political victory, one coup d' etat, one crime, one dismissal or resignation in high places—nay, even one divorce—that did not come about because of a lie, spoken or written first, and then compounded by more lies through bungling efforts to explain, justify, or deny the first lie.

The first lie is much like the first step into a pond of quicksand. Each successive statement will surely sink the doomed victim deeper and deeper into the gooey mess. The one and only salvation for the guy in this predicament is to make an immediate confession of the lie and reach for the branch of vindication overhead to pull himself up from the mire.

Some, more gifted than others with marvelous powers of retention and recall, can escape longer the consequences of their glib tongues, but, ultimately, even they will be exposed for their lies and deceits. You can pyramid those tales just so high before the law of gravity and the certain eventual slip of the tongue will bring the whole structure crashing down.

If natural moral integrity is insufficient motivation for anyone to avoid the lie, then, surely the more basic motivation of self-preservation should provide reason enough. It is somewhat akin to the oft-expressed opinion that the fear of getting caught keeps most of us from committing crimes, rather than a healthy, high moral standard and personal integrity. Obviously, the inducement of principles, rather than fear of detection, is preferable. And, wishfully, I'd like to think our men and women at Ames Ford sincerely avoid the lie on this basis. But, I'll accept the end result—Utopia—the total absence of lies or misrepresentations, deliberate or accidental—for any reason I can get.

Personally, in my own activities in and for Ames Ford, I use both reasons in my efforts to avoid the secret weapon. I have to. I have a lousy memory.

EXPERT MAKES HEADWAY

Joseph Fink, a bird control expert from Skokie, Ill., posed with a pigeon in London yesterday shortly after arriving in England with plans to clean up the country. Prelate Sees Concern Over Area Of Devotion

VATICAN CITY (AP) — An American Roman Catholic prelate asserted today that exaggerated devotions to the Virgin Mary lead only to blasphemy, embarrassment and pathetic deviations on the part of Catholic worshippers.

The statement came from Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan of Atlanta, Ga., commenting on concern expressed at the Vatican Ecumenical Council by a group of Latin American prelates on overemphasis of the Virgin in their countries.

The observations of the Latin American prelates—45 of the almost 900 from that region—has raised the question of whether the council should proceed with separate study of a thesis on Mary.

The thesis—or schema as it is called here—is expected to come before the 2,300 council fathers during this session, scheduled to close Dec. 4.

The Latin American group wants it incorporated in "de ecclesia." The thesis on church redefinition now is being debated in St. Peter's Basilica. They say to place the Virgin in a separate area of study might encourage devotional exaggerations.

Archbishop Hallinan said he believed a clear statement on the position of the Roman Catholic Church should be made to demonstrate to "those not of our faith that true Catholic life is centered in Christ." Many Protestants look critically at the emphasis given to Mary in some Catholic devotions.

BUDAPEST (UPI) — Hungarians arrested for drunkenness are to be put into a bathtub filled with "fresh, cold water," the newspaper Nepszava said today.

Runaway Boys Put Into Port

Four boys, apparently bent on running away to Mexico, sailed from San Rafael yesterday in the 25-foot sloop belonging to the parents of one of the youths, but got no farther than Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco.

Lester E. Ecke of 31 Glenaire Drive, San Rafael, called the Coast Guard yesterday at 3:30 p.m. to report that the boat and the boys were missing from the Dolphin Boatel at 135 Third Street, San Rafael.

Ecke, according to the Coast Guard, said the boys were planning to sail away to Mexico.

But at 10:30 p.m., Dr. William E. Malin of 25 Glenaire Drive, notified the Coast Guard that he had gotten a telephone call from his son, reporting that they were safely docked at Fisherman's Wharf.

Negroes Ask Mormon Church To Back Civil Rights Plan

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Negro leaders told officials of the Mormon Church last night that unless they meet certain demands, Negroes might picket the 133rd church conference which opened here today.

A spokesman for the Negroes said they want the church to go on record in support of President John F. Kennedy's civil rights program; to back civil rights legislation in Utah, and to endorse "the principle of equality of opportunity for all Americans."

The demands were presented at an hour-long meeting between officials of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and representatives of the Utah chapter of the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People.

Members of the NAACP will vote tonight on whether to picket the conference.

The demonstration, if it takes place is tentatively scheduled for Saturday evening at Temple Square.

A Negro spokesman who attended the meeting, but who declined to be identified by name, said the church officials indicated they were not likely to go along with NAACP demands.

Negroes are regarded by the church as descendants of Cain. They are admitted to membership in the church, but are barred from the priesthood, into which members of other races are freely admitted.

Officials say any change in church attitude foward the Negro must come as the result of revelation from God.

'ENERGY STOREHOUSE'

Fat Gets Pat On Back From Heart Specialist

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Fat, which usually gets a kick in the pants from doctors, got a pat on the back yesterday from a heart specialist.

Fat is a "storehouse of energy," Dr. Jules Hirsch, associate professor at the Rockefeller Institute in New York, told the 33rd annual Heart Assn. Symposium here yesterday.

Dr. Hirsch, also a physician at the institute, said "one thing we know for sure, fat isn't just something you sit on. It plays a dominating role in control of the body's metabolism."

If your father died of a heart attack, and if you smoke quite a bit and drink a lot of coffee, chances are a heart attack will fell you too, he said.

He described the national heart scene as "discouraging."

The three-day symposium ends today.

Technician To Tell Of Career Openings

L. B. Gapinsky, laboratory technician with the Marin Medical Laboratory, San Rafael, will be the first in a series of professionals from off the campus to address College of Marin students on career opportunities, it was announced today.

He will speak at noon Monday in Room 95, Olney Hall, on opportunities in medical technology, announced Carl Jensen of Novato, head of the students' careers forum.

Today savings and loan associations make more than a million home loans a year . . . more than all other financial institutions combined.

Thanks a hundred billion!

This month the savings and loan business passes the 100 billion dollar mark in assets. We are proud to be a part of it.

The savings and loan business is built on the right and incentive of human beings to better themselves. Its assets have grown from the thrift of its 35 million savers who are building sound financial futures for themselves.

We join all savings and loan associations in saying to you, "Thanks a hundred billion" for your confidence in us.

BLOOD BANK HONORS MARIN DOCTORS

State Goes To Court To Force Nursery Eviction

The State of California has gone to court to force W. Warren Anderson out of the nursery he operates on Frank Valley Road near Mill Valley, now part of Mount Tamalpais State Park.

An unlawful detainer action was filed Tuesday in Marin Municipal Court by the state, saying Anderson had not complied with an eviction notice of July 23. The state owns the land, having paid Anderson $35,600 for it in a condemnation action.

Anderson said he has not yet been served with a notice on the court action.

"I'm trying desperately to find another place, Anderson said today. "I've listed with 50 real estate firms in the county." He added he has transferred his insurance policy on the property to the state, but hasn't been paying rent for use of the land.

A letter from Deputy Attorney General Wayman M. Robertson to the Independent-Journal noted that the land is part of the park, "accessible for the enjoyment of all the people of Marin County."

"Furthermore," Robertson added, "we have been advised that the buildings on the premises constitute a very undesirable fire hazard which could conceivably jeopardize the priceless redwood trees in nearby Muir Woods."

The state purchased the land in February after a condemnation trial before a jury in Marin County Superior Court. Robertson said Anderson was formally advised in March that he would have to pay a monthly fee to stay on the land.

The Division of Beaches and Parks asked for eviction action May 13.

TV Hurts Films

NEW YORK (UPI) — Attendance at motion picture houses during the first seven months of this year was down 2.5 per cent from the same period a year ago, according to the research firm of Sindlinger and Co. Theater exhibitors blame, in part, the increasing number of newer films being shown on television.

Lay Directors For Hospitals? No, Says Medic

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Dr. Daniel Lieberman, who quit as state mental hygiene director, says the Brown administration is considering a major policy change that could badly damage California's mental health program.

Lieberman, in an interview last night, said the administration "would like to make a decision" to place lay administrators in charge of mental hospitals and other programs instead of the medical men who run them now.

His failure to persuade Gov. Edmund G. Brown to accept his point of view—that psychiatrists should administer psychiatric programs — was the main reason he unexpectedly resigned from the $24,806-a-year job Wednesday, Lieberman said.

He also said that an Assembly Ways and Means subcommittee planning to investigate mental health care has already made up its mind to recommend tnat the hospitals be placed under laymen.

These findings, he said, will give the administration "the support to do what they want to do."

POLICY VIEW

Behind the whole dispute, Lieberman said, was a disagreement over whether he, or the Finance Department and his superior, Health and Welfare Agency Director Winslow Christian, should determine policy.

"My feeling was that the Finance Department concerned itself in medical matters to too great an extent," he said. "I felt I needed the support of the governor to get the Finance Department to back off and I wasn't able to get that support."

Late Vengeance

BOTLEY, England (UPI)—Miss Lilian Harris, 54, pleaded guilty yesterday to charges that she stabbed the woman who stole her boyfriend 31 years ago. The judge ordered Miss Harris to go to a mental home after she told him she had brooded about her lost boyfriend for three decades.

Medics' Ballot Split On Loyalty Oath Issue

ed. The "anti-oath" group nominated only noe: Dr. Richard S. Hahn of Belvedere. Nominating committee choices are Drs. Robert J. Alderson and Robert F. Schell of San Rafael, Dr. A. Hartwell Jewell of Lucas Valley, and Dr. T. Scott Strathairn of Kentfield.

Two alternate delegates to the CMA are to be elected. Dr. Weden, who refused to sign the oath at last spring's house of delegates meeting, is a holdover. The "anti-oath" committee made no nomination for the two alternate posts to be filled. Committee nominees are Dr. Robert N. Chase of Lucas Valley, Dr. John R. Lee of Mill Valley, Dr. Jack W. Stage of Marinwood, and Dr. Leo A. Wagner of Novato.

Hurlbut said the slate he heads may disagree on many matters but are of one mind in in refusal to sign the oath. The Marin delegation fought unsuccessfully last year to have the oath replaced by a simple affirmation of loyalty.

The oath to which the doctors objects reads:

"I do not belong and have not belonged to any organization advocating the overthrow or change of the form of government of the U.S.A. by violent or unlawful means, nor do I belong or have belonged to any organization while it was listed, published or held to be subversive by the Department of Justice of the United States of America."

There follows a list of several hundred organizations that have been so listed at one time or another.

Three Hurt In Highway Smashup

Three were injured on Highway 101 at 7:50 p.m. yesterday when two cars collided head-on in the southbound lanes just south of the San Quentin Wye, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Mathilde van Heeckeren, 76, of 14 Watt Avenue, San Rafael, entered the freeway from Francisco Boulevard and found she was headed toward San Francisco. She made a U-turn across the southbound lanes and ran into a southbound car driven by Larry Richard O'Brien, 19, a San Francisco lumber company worker. Highway Patrol Officer William Gregg said. She was cited for driving on the wrong side of the divider.

In O'Brien's car, Richard O'Brien, 50, of San Francisco received a bruised right knee and Hazel O'Brien, 45, of San Francisco, bruises on face and right elbow. Both were treated at Marin General Hospital.

Meta Wester, 77, of 1355 Clinton Court, San Rafael, in the van Heeckeren car, was also injured. She said she would see her doctor.

Fairfax Street Aide's Back Badly Sprained

X-rays taken at Marin General Hospital have shown that Fairfax Street Supt. William Dooley suffered a badly sprained back, rather than a broken back, as was first thought. He was in good condition today.

Dooley fell four feet Wednesday from a bulkhead the city is building on Arroyo Road, landing in a dry creek bed.

Novato Talent Show To Benefit Scholars

A talent show will be presented at 8 p.m. Oct. 13 at the Community House in Novato for the benefit of the Novato Garden Club's high school scholarship fund.

The show will combine both high school and semi-professional performers in an evening of varied entertainment, ranging from a high school combo to operatic arias.

Proceeds will be used to start scholarships in drama and music at Novato High School.

Patricia Cann, operatic soprano of Mill Valley, will sing arias from "Iolantha" and "Madame Butterfly," as well as several popular songs.

John Land, baritone of San Francisco, will preview songs from "Fly Blackbird," a musical written by two University of California professors, in which he will sing the leading role at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park on Nov. 9.

Some members of the cast of the California Playhouse production of "Bye Bye Birdie" will present numbers from that musical which is now being presented in Oakland.

Among those in the cast are Pat Carpenter of Novato and Cliff Werden of Mill Valley, who have the leads. Others scheduled to appear are Jaime Gomes, Virginia Buckner, Don Renzulli and Judy Sobranes. They will be assisted by Novato High School teen-agers Nanette Baget, Kathy Phillips, Joyce Hixon, Nanette Larson, Michele Wilson and Wanda Johnson.

The "Bye Bye Birdie" group will be accompanied by their own musicians, the Johnny Mack Trio.

A classical ballet number will be danced by Joey and Johanna Page, a brother and sister team. An act scheduled for the night club circuit will be presented by Galen and Holly Horgan of San Rafael.

Gene Babo, Novato High School pianist, will play two selections. Lindsay Oullette, who sang in "West Side Story" in Oakland, will sing several songs.

The Jim Myers Quartet, composed of Novato High School students Jim Myers, Robbie MacBeath and Bob and Phil Edwards, will play popular music.

The Novato High School Drama Club will present Carolyn Purse and Noreen Jordan in a scene from a play.

Rabid Skunk Chases Woman, Deputy Before Being Shot

The eighth rabid animal discovered in Marin County this year, a skunk, chased a Bolinas housewife and a deputy sheriff before being shot Tuesday.

The Marin County Health Department reported today that tests on the skunk showed that it had rabies.

The skunk was spotted by Mrs. M. J. Francisco of Olema Road, Bolinas, walking along the road near her home. Mrs. Francisco went to chase the skunk, but was in turn chased back to her home.

Deputy Sheriff John Goff was summoned. As he alighted from his patrol car, the skunk started running toward Goff. The deputy sheriff retreated to his car, from which he shot the skunk, according to the health department.

Of the eight rabid animals, seven have been skunks. A rabid calf was found in the Novato area in July.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, today renewed a warning against touching wild animals, particularly foxes, skunks and raccoons. She urged parents to warn their children against picking up dead animals, which might have rabies.

Three rabid animals were discovered in the county last year. There were 11 in 1955, the highest since records began in 1950.

Navy Meeting

Cmdr. L. R. Hardie will speak on "Administration of Education and Training in the U.S. Navy" at the meeting of Naval Reserve Composite Unit 12-7, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 35 of the College of Marin, Kentfield.

Slip reduces engine friction 22%!

(okay, what does that mean?)

- It means that a 1962 Falcon got 8% more horsepower with Slip in the engine.
- It means that a 1956 Mercedes-Benz got 2 additional miles per gallon with Slip in the engine.
- It means that a 1962 Plymouth that did the standing quarter mile in 20 seconds did it in 17 seconds with Slip in the engine.
- It means that a 1961 Oldsmobile showed a 61% reduction in bearing wear with Slip in the engine.
- It means these cars, your new car, your old car, any car will run better, faster, give you better economy and last longer with Slip in the engine.

If you have to know more before you buy Slip, read these excerpts from our booklet "The Fight Against Friction."

What is friction?

No surface is ever perfectly smooth. Not even glass.

Even highly polished metals have microscopic peaks and valleys on their surfaces. Rub them together. The peaks crash against each other. A resistance to movement occurs. This is friction.

Under a microscope, even a highly polished surface looks like this. Oil and conventional solid lubricants are squeezed into the valleys under heat and pressure, leaving the jagged peaks bare and unprotected.

Even something as slippery as oil has friction built into it. The atoms in a molecule of oil attract each other like small, weak magnets. They resist movement and some friction occurs.

As great as they are, modern cars and motor oils still have a long way to go to overcome friction. Otherwise cars would run indefinitely on a drop of gasoline.

"Solid" lubricants

They resist heat and pressure better than oil. But they still only fill in the valleys on metal surfaces. The peaks are bare

There is nothing like MoS_2

MoS_2 is slippery. One of the slipperiest lubricants known to man. The greater the pressure, the more slippery it becomes (just the opposite of motor oil and all other lubricants). Under heavy loads its coefficient of friction is as low as .017, as slippery as two melting cakes of ice sliding over one another.

When you combine the unique Slip formula with MoS_2, what happens? You have a super-slippery lubricant. A lubricant that does not replace motor oil, but a lubricant that does make oil more slippery. Up to five times as slippery as the oil by itself. How does Slip do it? By plating itself to the cylinder walls and all moving parts. Slip will not wash off, burn off or drain off. It lasts through oil changes, up to 6,000 miles. It reduces friction. Dramatically. In freezing sub-zero starts. In blistering desert heat.

Submicron particles

A micron is about as small as you can get. A millionth of a meter. 35/1,000,000ths of an inch.

The particles of MoS_2 in Slip are even smaller. Submicron. 200 of them in a line would be no wider than a human hair. One particle doesn't differ greatly from another in size or shape.

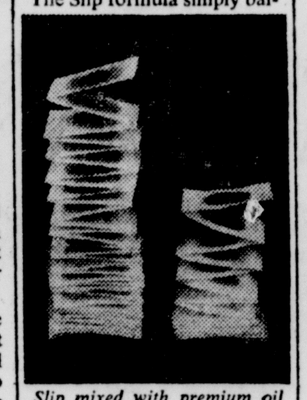

The Slip submicron particle size has two advantages. It goes through the finest oil filters. It also contributes to a perfect suspension. The smaller the particles, the easier it is to surround each of them with a protective shield. When this is done, the particles will not sink out or collect in bunches. This is called a colloidal suspension (like homogenized milk). Slip is a colloidal suspension of MoS_2.

There is more to Slip than MoS_2

You cannot just dump a load of MoS_2 in oil and have it work. It must be refined, purified, ground into submicron particles, perfectly suspended and made compatible. No small task. But the job is still not finished.

A high quality base oil must be used as a carrier. Slip has one of the finest, with 10-30 multigrade characteristics. Even then all of the MoS_2 would not go to work without something else in Slip. An exclusive blend of ingredients that activates the MoS_2.

Detergents. Dispersants. Anti-rust agents. Anti-wear agents. Anti-oxidants. Anti-corrosives. Viscosity-index improvers and pour point improvers. A good motor oil has all these to start with. The Slip formula simply balances them and activates the MoS_2.

Slip mixed with premium oil passed through 35 layers of #101 Whitman filter paper. Another MoS_2 solution only passed through six layers. Both were mixed in the proportion recommended for use by the manufacturers.

Once you use Slip, you'll make it a regular part of your car service program. Once every 6,000 miles.

Success in England

Slip was unveiled first in England. In two short years it became a standard item in garages and service stations. It's preferred 8 to 1 over any other oil supplement or any brand of additive. It works.

Tests with 5 different European cars at Loughborough College showed that Slip improved horsepower 4 to 14% and gas mileage 10 to 25%.

Camden, N. J.

Slip was road-tested in twelve privately owned automobiles, from two to eight years old, for compression and idling speed. After 1000 miles with Slip in the crankcase, the cars averaged 6.48% greater compression, 5.22% faster idling.

San Antonio, Texas

Slip was tested in a 1960 Oldsmobile V-8 for any adverse effects or wear in comparison with a high quality reference oil without Slip.

There were no adverse effects. Incidental information recorded indicated 61% less bearing wear, 20% less oil consumption with Slip. Dynamometer tests on a 1956 Oldsmobile Super 88 showed a 4.15% decrease in fuel consumption at 2000 r.p.m., a 6.20% decrease at 3000 r.p.m.

Bridgehampton, L. I., N. Y.

Six 1962 rental cars, new but broken in, were subjected to dynamometer tests for road horsepower; acceleration and maximum speed tests under the supervision of Jan Norbye, Technical Editor, "Car and Driver" magazine.

The cars were a Chevy II Nova, Ford Thunderbird, Ford Falcon, Plymouth Fury, Pontiac Bonneville, Volkswagen. After being run 1000 miles with Slip, the six cars averaged 5.04% greater maximum speed up a slight incline, 5.08% greater acceleration from a standing-to-quarter-mile run (avg./best times in three runs per car).

How to Use Slip

Run the engine to normal operating temperature. Then stop it and pour Slip down the oil filler pipe into the crankcase. Restart the engine and run for a minimum ten minutes to give the MoS_2 a chance to mix with the oil.

You should begin to notice the effect after 300 miles, perhaps sooner. One of these may be the necessity for a carburetor adjustment. The less friction, the greater the idling speed. If your car was idling rapidly before you added Slip, it may actually race afterward.

Add Slip Engine Lubricant every 6000 miles. You do not have to add Slip with every oil change. Slip lasts through oil changes.

The more you use Slip, the greater are the results. For this reason you may want to add another bottle just 2000 miles after the first. This helps build up a heavier plating of MoS_2 and provides an extra margin of performance, power and economy.

Slip "G"

Slip "G" is for gears.

It reduces friction, wear and noise in transmissions, differentials and steering units. The effects are immediate. Shifting and parking are easier. There is no rattle, no hum, no whine when you drive.

"G" lasts up to 10,000 miles.

It's a different product than Slip Engine Lubricant. "G" uses a heavier multigrade base oil as a carrier. It has a different formula and different inhibitors to meet the different requirements of heat and pressure. Do not use Slip "G" in your engine.

Because Slip "G" reduces friction dramatically, it should not be used in automatic transmissions or in overdrive units. These units depend upon some friction to work properly. Nor should it be used in limited slip differentials.

For the complete booklet "The Fight Against Friction," write to: "Slip," R. M. Hollingshead Corp., 840 Cooper Street, Camden, New Jersey. Slip is made and sold by R. M. Hollingshead Corp., Camden, New Jersey; Sunnyvale, Calif.; Toronto, Can. for Slip Prods. Co., Ltd., London, England.

Available at service stations, car dealers and auto supply stores.

The average motorist will spend $5.38 a year for Slip and save over $15.00 in gas bills alone. Where else can you get 3 to 1 for your money just by asking for it? Ask for it. You'll feel the difference in your car within 300 miles.

Marinwood Rec Meetings To Change

The Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission last night decided to change its monthly meeting to the first Monday of each month. The commission has been meeting on the first Thursday, in the library of Mary E. Silveira School.

As soon as the new community center building on Miller Creek Road and Lucas Valley Road is completed, probably by the end of next month, commission meetings will be held in the new center.

Chairman Walter Van Gelder announced that Oct. 25 at 8 p.m., all interested community groups will meet, probably at the Silveira School, to work out a schedule for use of the community center.

Tentative date for the opening day ceremony and open house at the center was set last night for Dec. 1, in the afternoon.

Dinner, Dance Slated On Columbus Day

A Columbus Day dinner dance will be held by the San Rafael Council 1292, Knights of Columbus, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. at Nero's Restaurant, 5800 Redwood Highway, Novato.

Reservations are being taken by George Malley of 336 Hyacinth Way, Terra Linda.

Mobile Home Zoning On Planners Agenda

A public hearing will be held in the Civic Center Monday to consider setting up a new county zoning district, specifically to control mobile homes.

The hearing, before the Marin County Planning Commission, will start at 9 a.m. in room 319 of the Civic Center in Santa Venetia. The present comprehensive zoning regulations allow house trailers only in commercial or industrial districts. There is no zone set up for trailer parks. The planning commission proposes to establish such zoning.

Two other hearings are set on proposed zoning changes. One is rezoning of San Geronimo Valley which would reduce the commercially zoned area somewhat and establish one-acre residential lots for the bulk of the valley. The other is a proposal to rezone Point San Quentin to residential. At present, Point San Quentin, including homes along the entrance road to the main prison gate, is zoned industrial.

Other items on the county planning commission agenda for Monday include:

Marin Catholic High School at Greenbrae seeks a permit to add classrooms and a gymnasium to the school plant.

D. M. Christensen Construction Co. wants a permit for apartment houses at Miller Creek Road and Las Gallinas Avenue in Marinwood.

American Baptist Union of the San Francisco Bay Cities wants to build a church at Lucas Valley Road and Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood.

Barrett Homes of the East Bay seeks a permit for 36 one-family homes on Park Circle and Buckelew Street, Marin City.

Walter Kieckhefer wants to build a 136-unit apartment in Loma Verde, on the south side of San Jose Boulevard between Alameda Del Prado and San Jose Creek.

Tentative maps will be presented for Sea Cove subdivision on Paradise Drive, Tiburon Peninsula and Lawson subdivision near Dillon Beach.

Hallinan On TV

Attorney Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere will be interviewed on television station KQED's program, "Kaleidoscope," Oct. 14 from 8:30 to 9 p.m.

Three Drunken Drivers Fined

Three persons were fined yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. All had pleaded guilty.

Clifford Lee Gwin, 31, of 557 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, who was arrested Sept. 9 on Elm Street by Fairfax police, was fined $166. Mary French Joseph, 40, of Petaluma, was fined $110 after her arrest Wednesday by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 near the Sonoma County line.

David Joseph Trummer, 65, of San Francisco, was fined $220. He was arrested by the highway patrol after an accident Monday on Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon.

Shell Oil Asks Permit For Second Area To Drill

Shell Oil Co., already exploring for oil three and one-half miles off Point Reyes, has applied for a permit on a second site nine miles off the Point Reyes beach.

Shell, the big winner in leasing off-shore land from the Department of Interior last June, holds leases on most of the 118,300 submerged acres beyond the three-mile limit west and south of the Point Reyes peninsula.

The company has applied for a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers. In its application the company has said it will use the exploration barge CUSS I and will be drilling for about 35 days. When drilling is completed, there will be nothing left above three feet of the ocean floor.

Objections to the corps of engineer's permit can be made only on the basis of navigation. Anyone wishing to object may write the corps' district office in San Francisco. Objections must be filed during the next 30 days.

Richardson Bay Open Area Wanted

Strawberry Recreation District directors Wednesday night directed their attorney, Stephen H. Kaufmann, to express their concern over retaining open water area in Richardson Bay at meetings Oct. 22 and 23 in San Francisco.

The meetings are of the planning subcommittee of the Assembly interim committee on natural resources, planning and public works and will be held at the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue at 2 p.m. Oct. 22 and 10 a.m. Oct. 23.

There are about 2,500 different kinds of snakes, but less than 200 varieties are considered dangerous to humans.

Overseas Pay Eliminated For Some Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today eliminated special pay for duty overseas for about 375,000 enlisted men, mainly stationed in Western Europe and Hawaii.

In an order, McNamara designated more than 100 countries, islands, and specific places within certain Western European countries, in which some 225,000 U.S. servicemen remain eligible for overseas pay, based chiefly on undesirable climate, isolation, and lack of normal community facilities.

Officers are not affected, since they have not been receiving extra pay for overseas duty.

The loss of overseas pay in some cases will all but cancel out gains under the general military pay increase just voted by Congress.

Acting under authority granted by Congress in that pay bill, McNamara eliminated the old across the board foreign duty pay system and inaugurated a new arrangement.

This provides rates of special duty pay, as it is called, ranging from $8 a month for the lowest rank of enlisted men to $22.50 a month for senior non-conmmissioned officers.

'Moonlighter' Watch Set On Construction

The Marin County Building and Construction Trades Council (AFL-CIO) and the Marin Builders Exchange, representing contractors and suppliers, today jointly announced plans for a union patrol "cracking down on weekend moonlighting and scabbing."

George R. Scott, Building Trades Council president, and E. Douglas Roberts, Builders Exchange manager, cited success of a similar patrol in San Francisco.

Scott announced he will be available at Building Trades headquarters in the San Rafael Labor Temple on weekends to receive complaints and keep in telephonic communication with the union spotters.

"Nothing in this program will interfere with do-it-yourself work of homeowners receiving volunteer assistance from relatives and friends in the building trades," said Scott and Roberts in a joint announcement. "Evidence has been presented that in many instances work alleged to be donated is in fact being paid for and in unreported cash which subjects the employee and employer to possible violation of social security and internal revenue regulations. The liability of the home owner for injury under the workmen's compensation laws of the state is also involved."

Scot said many of the weekend "moonlighters" may be union members violating their own unions' rules.

The patrol by union spotters will continue each weekend during the winter, he said.

The plan was worked out at at a meeting of officials of the Building and Construction Trades Council, Builders Exchange, Electrical Contractors Assn., Plumbing Contractors Assn., Painting Contractors Assn. and Engineering and Grading Contractors Assn.

More riding horses are stabled in suburban surroundings in the United States than are found on the western ranges of this country.

Finding Friends Is No Surprise

WILLMAR, Minn. (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Loftus arrived at Trails End Lodge on Man Trap Lake to spend their first vacation there since 1957 it seemed natural to find Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Malsberger of Indiana occupying the neighboring cabin.

Back in 1956 they had met the Malsbergers when they had a cabin next to them at the Lodge.

The following summer, in 1957, without any pre-arrangement, the Willmar couple and the Indiana couple arrived within 20 minutes of each other and again found themselves next door neighbors.

See? It looks like next year's model.
VWs always look the same because VW only changes the car to make it work better, not to make it look different.
So the people who bought '63 VWs aren't nervous about what the '64s will look like. (And neither is Volkswagen.)
Volkswagen has made over 5 million cars, and they've made lots of changes.
Not enough to make you run out and buy a new car every year.
But enough to notice the difference when you do. (14 changes for '64 alone.)
In the meantime, no matter what year VW you own, you can always get parts easily; many of them are interchangeable from one year to the next.
So if you want to, you can keep your old VW running forever.

Freshmen Officers Elected

Stan Tobiason was elected president of the freshman class at Redwood High School by a wide margin yesterday, receiving 205 votes.

Two hundred and eighty of the 350 class members cast ballots. Tobiason defeated Ken Murray, who received 35 votes, and Rufus Aylwin, with 26 votes.

There also will be a runoff election for secretary between Anne Auerbach and Jan Troppman, reported Leanne Bertram, commissioner of elections.

Teaching Of Communism Due Discussion In Novato

The controversy over how to teach about communism in California schools will be one of the main topics of a conference of teachers and American Legion members which convenes in Novato tonight.

The group, officially called the California Teachers Assn. and American Legion Joint Committee, will meet at 6 p.m. for a no-host cocktail party and supper at Tomahawk Lodge.

Main speaker tonight will be Dr. Everett Calvert, chief state deputy superintendent of instruction, who will talk on economics courses in schools. He will represent Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, state superintendent, who was invited but could not attend.

Saturday's session will convene at 9 a.m. at Marion School. F. H. Raymond, state forester, the first main speaker Saturday, will talk about the California Youth Conservation program.

He will be followed by Dr. Marian Wagstaff, professor of education at Los Angeles State College, and Dr. J. W. Mears, president of Cerritos College in Los Angeles. They will discuss a pamphlet entitled "Guidelines for Teaching Communism for Junior and Senior High School Teachers."

The morning session will include discussions and workshops on the two topics. Lunch will be at Tomahawk Lodge with Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) speaking on "Dollar Priority of the 1963 Legislative Session."

Oakland attorney Malcolm M. Champlin, former state commander of the American Legion will also speak at the luncheon meeting. His topic is "What's Right About America."

Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, who arranged the meeting, reported several speakers he had hoped for could not come because of other commitments. They included Sen. Barry Goldwater, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, and William W. Braden, president of the state board of education. Braden was slated to talk on "Our Bill of Rights."

Rep. Donald Clausen (R-Crescent City) had another speaking engagement.

Among those attending will be Dr. Cecil Hardesty, San Diego County superintendent of schools, who was an unsuccessful candidate for state superintendent. He will make no formal speech, but will take part in the discussion, Hollis said.

Hard Time Getting Up?

Dodgers Cautious; Grim Yanks Confident

Soft-spoken Walter Alston, his Los Angeles Dodgers riding the crest of a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven World Series, was afraid to talk about winning for fear of losing.

Fierce, forceful Ralph Houk, his proud New York Yankees still winless after two games with the Dodgers at home, insisted today his team will win the series although the next three games are scheduled for Los Angeles.

In the visiting clubhouse at Yankee Stadium after the Dodgers had whipped the Yankees 4-1 yesterday on top of a 5-2 opening triumph, it was suggested to Alston that the Dodgers' chances of a World Series triumph appeared a lot brighter with two games in the bag.

"It doesn't mean a damn thing unless we win two more," replied the cautious manager. "I remember back in 1956 we took the first two from the Yankees and they came back to beat us. No, anything can still happen."

Some 50 yards away in the Yankee clubhouse, Houk sat chewing away at a cigar contemplating answers to the questions hurled at him by the reporters.

The reply was in answer to a question how it felt to be behind two games to none and despite the ungrammatical expression the listeners got the drift.

"It would be foolish for me to say a team that had a 2-0 edge didn't have the advantage," added Houk. "But I still say we'll win it."

"We've been two down before and we won. And we've won four in a row many times before."

There is one major difference, however. The Yankees never have lost the first two games at home, and come back to win.

Up to now, as the teams prepare for the third clash here tomorrow, it has all been the Dodgers.

The National Leaguers have flashed the stronger pitching and better speed, as advertised, and have provided the heavier hitting and more spectacular defense, as unadvertised.

It was Johnny Podres' turn to take the pitching laurels yesterday as the veteran lefthander stifled the Yankees with six hits until he left because of weariness after 8⅓ innings. Ron Perranoski, the relief ace with the golden left arm, came in from the bullpen and shut the door on the Yankees after allowing a run-scoring single.

The Dodgers scored early, pouncing upon young Al Downing for a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Singles by Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam and the first of two doubles by Willie Davis, helped along when Roger Maris slipped and fell, produced the runs.

While Podres was mowing the Yankees down with precision, the Dodgers added to their total, scoring in the fourth on Moose Skowron's home run and again in the eighth when Tommy Davis followed Willie's two-bagger with a booming triple to the left-center field fence.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Question Of Day: What Happened To Yanks So-Called Power Plant?

CONNOLLY

You can fool some people, some of the time, but you can't fool 'em all of the time—that about speaks the piece for the N.Y. Yankees who have been bluffing their way through the American League strictly on their past reputation as a "power hitting" group when it's been a misnomer—completely.

That bubble called "power" busted wide open again yesterday in the World Series when the L.A. Dodgers tripped them up, not alone by pitching and running, but on hitting.

The great Yankee bubble looks like it's leaking. Maybe they are hurting for want of competition in their own league. But why all the palaver about them winning the flag without Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris?

SO FAR against the Dodgers the Yanks look like a second rate aggregation in a third rate league.

What Sandy Koufax did to them in the opener, his teammate, also a lefty, Johnny Podres, did to them for 8⅓ innings yesterday. Only cagey Walter Alston, playing it safe, removed Podres in the ninth, replacing him with Ron Perranoski as good, if not better, than any pitcher on the Yankees staff.

Podres could have carried on but he showed he was straining himself in the last innings of the game, so he was given the bounce and Perranoski locked it up.

THE PLAY of the Yanks in this series to date really is a carry-over from last October. Against the Giants they didn't look good and appeared as though they cared less.

With the Dodgers the attitude is completely different. The Bums realize NOW they actually "blew" the 1962 flag and are not about to blow the "Series." They're charging from the start, never easing up and are really spouting fire and brimstone as well as confidence.

Take Joe Pepitone, Clete Boyer, Bobby Richardson, Tony Kubek, Mickey Mantle, and Roger Maris and each of them suffer in comparison to their counterparts on the Dodger team.

THE PLAY of the Yanks, after cake walking through the American League, puts manager Ralph Houk on the spot. It was Houk who pointed to how great his team was without Mantle and Maris. If both of them don't improve on their playing so far, maybe he better go back to using the guys who won the pennant for him.

If the Yanks think Koufax, Podres and Perranoski are tough to face, they may have a big surprise in store for them tomorrow when they look at Don Drysdale. In my book Drysdale is just as cagey and just as fast and has all the throws like his southpaw teammates have. And I think he'll be pitching to prove it.

ONLY A complete reversal of hiting form can save the Yanks from blowing four in a row. And to make matters worse they have to go along with an inexperienced chucker in tomorrow's game while the Dodgers fire one of the two great righthanded pitchers in the National League at 'em — Drysdale. I'd say Juan Marichal and Drysdale represent right hand pitching perfection.

Another big lift to the Dodger hot pace is they now have what the boys call a lot of "momentum", a new word for desire.

The clubowners naturally are worrying because they face a "minus pool" if the series ends in four games. They break even, if they are lucky in four games, but get a juicy hunk of lettuce if it goes seven. I don't think the Dodger players care a hoot about that angle. They want the front end of that player pool money which might hit $12,000 a man.

FACE LIONS SUNDAY

Chris Makes lineup Changes For 49ers

Coach Jack Christiansen today confirmed that Bob Waters would start at quarterback and Don Lisbon at halfback when the San Francisco 49ers play at Detroit Sunday.

In other lineup changes, the youthful mentor said that Kay McFarland make his first start at flanker and Bernie Casey will shift to left end where his blocking prowess will be more useful.

Center linebacker Mike Dowdle will also return to the lineup after missing last Sunday's game at Minneapolis with a thumb injury.

Christiansen said that the veteran signal-caller Lamar McHan, obtained only this week, would be ready to back up Waters. "If he has a little trouble calling the plays, the coach said.

The coach said that his number one signal caller John Brodie would be in a full cast for six weeks "and probably won't be able to throw for two or three weeks after that. With 11 games left, we really can't count on him this year. But we'll be tickled if he does make it."

It was announced that Brodie would make the trip to Detroit and would assist on the phones and help out the quarterbacks.

Cousin Sam Wins

SERIES NOTEBOOK

L. A. 3-1 Favorite

WORLD SERIES NOTES:

The Los Angeles Dodgers are favored at 3-1 today to win the best-of-seven World Series because of their victories over the Yankees in the first two games.

However, the Yankees are a slight choice at 11-10 to take tomorrow's third game in Los Angeles. The clubs are idle today.

The betting is 3-1 that the Dodgers do N-O-T take the next two games for a four-game sweep of the series. It's 10-1 that the Yankees do N-O-T win the next four games.

Before the series, the Yankees had been favored at 7½ to 5 to win the classic. But after the Dodgers' opening 5-2 victory Wednesday, the odds dropped to "even money." And yesterday's 4-1 Dodger triumph made the Dodgers a 3-1 favorite.

TOMORROW'S starting pitchers are Don Drysdale (19-17) for the Dodgers and Jim Bouton (21-7) for the Yankees at 1 p.m., PDT.

Sunday the Dodgers will send Sandy Koufax against Whitey Ford in a renewal of their opening game duel which Koufax won with a masterful record 15-strikeout, 5-2 performance.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange, down sharply during Wednesday's opening game, came back strongly yesterday and registered 4½ million shares. Trading also increased on the American Stock Exchange.

But generally in New York, as in many other American cities, the annual World Series fever had taken hold.

Job absenteeism was up. So were coffee breaks.

Taverns and hotel suites were filled with businessmen who seemed to have developed a sudden interest in daytime television.

George Rubin, head of a company that supplies temporary help to New York firms, told the Wall Street Journal:

"Companies anticipate a rise in sick-leave absentees. In some cases 4 per cent to 5 per cent of the staff it out. We supply clerks, accountants and sales help to fill the World Series gap."

NOTHING seemed to go right for the Yankees in the first two games of the World Series. Even the electric scoreboard went on the fritz for a while yesterday.

WHEN THE Dodgers won their last World Series in 1959 against the Chicago White Sox, Johnny Podres also was the winning pitcher in the second game. He gave up two runs and five hits in six innings as the Dodgers won 4-3 and went on to take the Series, four games to two.

THE DODGERS are the first team to win the opening two Series games on the road in 13 seasons. The Yanks won the first two of the 1950 series at Philadelphia and went home to sweep the Phils four straight.

WOMAN SCORES HOLE-IN-ONE

Mrs. James Duggan of Fairfax scored a hole-in-one Wednesday at the Indian Valley Golf Course in Novato.

Using a number five wood, Mrs. Duggan aced her tee shot on the 145-yard 17th hole. Witnesses were Mrs. Neil Young of San Rafeal, Mrs. Dell Miller of Ross and Mrs. Elsa Linx of Novato.

Have you got "ALL THE ANSWERS"?

- "Does it really cost less to lease than to buy a new car?"
- "Can I get any make and model of car I want?"
- "How long is the lease?"
- "Aren't all lease plans pretty much the same?"

These are some of the first things most people who are "thinking about" leasing a new car want to know. How about you? Want the answers to these, and a lot more, important questions? Then phone or write for our brochure. No representative will call on you except at your request.

Novato Gridders To Battle San Rafael Tonight

Most things point to a close game tonight when the Novato Hornets and San Rafael Bulldog gridders meet in their opening game of the Marin Athletic League at 8 o'clock on the San Rafael High School field.

Although Novato hasn't scored a single point in its three practice games of the season, the Hornets are a much better team than has been shown. It is a matter of when the team is going to jell.

San Rafael was soundly whipped in its first game of the season, but has improved considerably over that showing. San Rafael lost its opener to Arcata, 24-0, then turned around to drop St. Mary's of Berkeley 7-0 and Montgomery 13-0, a complete reversal of opening game play.

Novato, on the other hand, has been blanked three times, by Riordan 6-0, Ukiah 13-0, and Santa Rosa 20-0. On all three occasions, the Hornets drove to within scoring range, only to sputter the opportunity away.

"I think we'll win. We have never lost to San Rafael yet and I see no reason to change this," said Marlin Olsen, head coach for the Hornets. Novato has been on top of the score on the five previous meetings between the two schools.

Biggest shot in the arm for Novato is the return to the lineup of John Miller, top running back and top defensive back on the Hornet roster. He has shaken off an injury and will return to his starting fullback spot. He is co-captain of the team, along with quarterback Roy Otis.

Only key injury in the Novato camp is to fullback Rich Rotchy who suffered a sprained ankle in last week's game with Santa Rosa. He is expected to be out of the lineup for three weeks.

San Rafael head coach Bob Muster reported he has been working his chargers on offensive line play this week in hopes of strengthening the Bulldogs' running game. The S.R. passing game has looked sharp so far this year, with quarterback Wade Roberts throwing for 127 yards in the Santa Rosa victory.

Muster had praise for his improved defensive team and singled out tackles Steve Rogers and Bill Henry, deep backs Dave Cooley and Steve Spurling, and linebacker Gary Ferrari. Of Ferrari, Muster said, "he's the best linebacker we've had in a long time at San Rafael."

The head grid mentor was pleased to report no injuries on his San Rafael team. The Bulldogs' outlook was made even brighter with the news that end Steve Jensen will be able to play after recovering from an early season ankle injury.

College Of Marin Gridders Take To Road Tonight For Vallejo Tilt

With a morale-boosting 38-14 blitz of the Chico State junior varsity under their belts, the College of Marin Tars, now 1-1 on the season, take a trip tonight to meet Vallejo College at Vallejo in a non - league football encounter.

Pass defense drill was the order of the week in the Mariner practice camp in preparation for a heavy Vallejo passing attack.

"The game should be a good test for us as Vallejo has good size and is always tough," said Marin coach Dick Read.

Vallejo uses the pro-style offense with a back split wide to one side and an end spread wide on the opposite side. "This style offense is perfect for a team that likes to pass and, according to our scouting reports, Vallejo has a man who really knows how to throw the ball," said Read.

Marin's complete dominance of the first half last week enabled Tar coaches in the second half to use the entire traveling team of 45 men.

Statistics on the Chico game show Marin with 323 yards on the ground and 141 yards passing for a net gain of 464 yards. Chico, by comparison, ran for only 80 yards, but outpassed Marin with 147 yards for a net gain of 227 yards.

Seals Have Eye On L.A. Right-Winger

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — The San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League have an eye on Los Angeles for a right-winger, and the Los Angeles Blades are looking to San Francisco for defensive help.

Seal Coach Bud Poile said yesterday he is "definitely interested in trading with the Blades for a right-winger," and that he and Blade Coach Alf Pike are "talking some."

Poile said he has particular interest in Stan Maxwell or Willie O'Ree.

"With Cliff Pennington hitting the way he is at center, if I can get Nick Mickoski going strong at left wing and either Maxwell or O'Ree on the other side, it could be one of the strongest lines in the league," Poile said.

He cited Pennington's exhibition scoring pace and said if the hard-shooting skater continues hitting through the regular season "he could easily score 40 goals for us."

Sports Program To Start In S.R.

A sports program will be offered to boys and girls 8 through 11 who live in San Rafael, Terra Linda Valley and Santa Venetia, starting tomorrow, by the San Rafael Recreation Department.

There will be no charge to the program which will be held at Terra Linda High School. Eight and 9-year-olds will meet from 9 to 10:30 a.m. and 10 and 11-year-olds will meet from 10:30 to noon.

Girls will be working on volleyball and tumbling and the boys on tennis and tumbling. Boys are requested to bring tennis rackets by Joseph D. Rodota, head of the recreation department.

M.V. Man To Produce Prep Grid TV Series

Robert (Bob) Cawley of Mill Valley, ABC-TV's location producer for American Football League telecasts, has been named producer of Channel 7's "High School Football" series, it was announced by Cal Thomas, program director.

Cawley and his wife, Dixie, have three children, Kim, 10, Sharon, 9, and Sean, 7.

Drake, T.L. To Meet

The battle of the unbeatens will take place tomorrow afternoon when the Drake High School Pirates clash with the Terra Linda High School Trojans in the Marin Prep Game of the Week on the College of Marin field, 2 p.m.

Drake and its high-scoring offense will take the favorite role into the game, although it shouldn't find an easy foe in Terra Linda. Both teams are sporting 3-0 practice game records, but the game tomorrow is the first for the two teams to go into the Marin Athletic League record books.

The Pirates have displayed a potent running attack led by sophomore Dean Lazzarini, a fleet-footed halfback. Equally potent has been the passing attack of the Pirates, composed primarily of quarterback Mike Kemp throwing to flankerback Mike Crabtree.

Terra Linda has shown a consistent running game which has resulted in victories over Del Valle (14-7), Jefferson (26-12) and Oakland Tech (25-0).

Drake head coach Bob Francheschini looks for both teams to score at least three touchdowns apiece. He believes Terra Linda has a well balanced team and will try to find the weakest spot, be it pass defense or rushing defense. "Then we'll concentrate on that spot," he said.

Francheschini proudly mentioned the fact that Lazzarini has averaged slightly more than 10 yards per carry in the first three games. That's out of 42 carries.

Franceschini and his assistant Red Brown have been working the past week on his reserves, in hopes of developing bench strength for the MAL games. The coaches were happy to report no injuries prior to tomorrow's battle.

The injury situation is another thing on the Terra Linda side of the fence. Especially at the right end spot. End Ed Connell is sidelined with an ankle injury suffered in the Oakland Tech game, and reserve end Jim Timmel is out with the flu.

Head coach Pete Limm was hoping the flu bug doesn't spread to other players, noting that three cases have already been reported on his team.

Limm calls it fortunate the Trojans have won all three of their games and concedes they have got a lot of breaks. "We haven't played any team with the scoring potential of Drake. We'll do our best and see what happens."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

MONTREAL — Peter Schmidt, 146, Toronto, and Joey Durelle, 146, Trois-Rivieres, Que., drew, 12.

Important News About Imported Scotch

How a sea voyage in its original casks from our Distillery in Scotland creates a Whisky with the unique combination of elegant taste and thrifty price

The art of "gentle-ing" came into being centuries ago when wealthy wine merchants used to send their wines on long ocean voyages in their original casks in order to bring them to their point of perfection. And now the same holds true for House of Stuart Scotch Whisky.

House of Stuart is a blend of 30 of the finest Scotch distillations. It is carefully blended and aged in our distillery in Bowling-By-Glasgow, Scotland. Then—like the wine merchants of old—we send our fine Scotch out to sea in its original casks to be "gentled," and imported to America. As a result of this sea voyage, not only is the taste of House of Stuart improved, but the cost is also considerably less.

You see, since it is shipped in its original casks, House of Stuart does not have to pay the taxes and duties paid by other Scotches that are bottled overseas. This means you pay almost $2.00 less per fifth than many other popular brands. Visit your liquor mart or store and ask for House of Stuart. It's elegant in taste, and thrifty in price because it's shipped in its original casks.

Big 6 Expected To Regain Some Prestige This Week

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California, the Big Six's chief prestige loser in last week's intersectional setbacks, tries to atone with a victory over Michigan State tonight in the kick-off game of what should be an improved weekend for the West Coast.

Pittsburgh, which could be leading the conference with a 2-0 record if it belonged, is a top-heavy favorite over California but elsewhere the outlook is brighter.

At least Stanford and UCLA can't both lose as they did last week when the Big Six salvaged a tie in six non-conference engagements—they're playing each other at Stanford in the league opener.

Washington entertains Iowa and Washington State, victim of an official's miscount that cost a possible victory against Iowa last week, hosts Arizona.

Among the independents, Oregon State seeks its third victory at the expense of visiting Baylor, Oregon travels to West Virginia and San Jose is at Utah State.

Southern Cal dropped from No. 1 to No. 8 in national rankings when it bowed to Oklahoma, 17-12. Coach John McKay has since junked his three-unit system, blasted 1963's controversial substitution rule and tried figuratively to apply some needed glue to the fingers of his pass receivers.

Michigan State bombed North Carolina 31-0, a game dominated by kicker Lou Bobich. Bobich, kicking soccer-style off the side of his foot, booted a field goal, four extra points and kept the Tarheels pinned down with his long punts and kickoffs.

Still, the Trojans are one-touchdown favorites in a game that was shifted from Saturday afternoon because of the World Series.

California, wondering where its offense has gone, tries to contain a Pitt team that has averaged 400 yards per game in victories over UCLA and Washington. Cal's All-American hope, Quarterback Craig Morton, has completed only 11 of 33 passes and has been rushed hard.

Oregon and Bob Barry, who could be the West's best quarterback, meet a West Virginia team that Navy shelled 51-7. Stanford keyed on Oregon Halfback Mel Renfro last week so Berry passed them silly, 36-7.

Injuries, the latest to Halfback Bill Stifger, are forcing Washington to continually revamp its backfield. The Huskies are looking for their first victory in the home opener.

Baylor Quarterback Don Trull could be the major problem facing Oregon State while Washington State must stop Arizona speed and an offense similar to that of Texas Tech, who beat the Cougars 16-7.

Rudolph Leads $125,000 Open Golf Tournament

The 29-year-old Tennessean led the $125,000 Whitemarsh Open Golf Tournament today by a stroke after the first 18 of the 72-hole competition.

"I'm happy to take the lead anytime," he said yesterday after completing a 34-33-67 round, five under par for the 6,807-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course.

"I like to get the lead especially in a rich tournament like this one because the prize money list is so long," he said. "If you fall you still are in the money."

Rudolph obviously wasn't counting the $26,000 first prize with only a one stroke lead over stocky Phil Rodkers of Perfido Bay Fla., and with the likes of Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Jack Nicklaus and Julius Boros not too far back. Palmer, his right shoulder still aching with bursitis, shot a 70. Player and Nicklaus 71's, and Boros a 73.

Just behind Rudolph and Rodgers, tied at 69, were the veteran Gene Littler and two comparative unknowns, Rod Funseth of Spokane, Wash., and Jerry Pisano of Radnor in suburban Philadelphia.

Stanford Vs. UCLA Aerial Duel Seen

STANFORD (AP) — Stanford and UCLA open the Big Six football campaign tomorrow in what shapes up as a passing battle.

The Indains and Bruins don't have great aerial attacks—but their defenses have shown great vulnerability to passes.

The Bruins have lost both 1963 starts while Stanford is 1-1. But UCLA improved drastically between its 20-0 drubbing by Pittsburgh and a narrow 17-14 loss to Penn State.

Stanford had little test in disposing of San Jose 29-13 but its own fumbles and Oregon's surprise passing combined for a 36-7 defeat last week.

HERO — GOAT

Carl Jones, the early-season starter, is being shifted to halfback and junior Larry Zeno, alternately a star adn goat in 1962, is back at quarterback.

But the Bruins believe Zeno is the better team leader. And Jones was 0-for-11 in the air.

Stanford coach John Ralston says, "We think we'll bounce back against UCLA," but emphasizes that the defense "is not holding up its end."

He blames faulty mental preparation for the six lost fumbles against Oregon.

What shaped up as an injury-riddled Stanford fullback department brightened as Dan Conaway ran without trouble from a muscle bruise and Glenn Myers worked with a special harness on his dislocated shoulder.

UCLA traces its one-week improvement strictly to the opener's experience. The Bruins are starting four sophomores, 11 juniors and only two seniors.

"If they make that much improvement again," says Ralston, "they could be one of the best teams on the coast."

Warriors Win 1st Exhibition Game

HONOLULU (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors, sparked by Guy Rogers, won their first NBA exhibition game of the season last night. They defeated the Philadelphia 76ers 121-115 before 2,000 fans at Schofield Barracks.

Rogers scored 15 of his 20 points in a second quarter surge, powering the Warriors to 62-53 half time lead. However, Hal Greer continued his hot island shooting performance and topped all scorers with 25 points for the 76ers. Al Bianchi got 17 points for the losers before being ejected from the game in third quarter for protesting a foul call.

Wilt Chamberlain of the Warriors, was held to 13 points but grabbed 16 rebounds and also had numerous assists.

Browns, Steelers Collide In NFL Crucial Tomorrow Night

NEW YORK (AP)—The "big one" in pro football this weekend is the Saturday night battle at Cleveland of the two unbeatens in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League, the Pittsburgh Steelers and Cleveland Browns.

The Chicago Bears, undefeated leaders of the Western Conference, will be at home to the Baltimore Colts in one of the six Sunday games in the NFL. Green Bay, trailing by a game, takes on the winless Los Angeles Rams at home.

Y. A. Tittle and the New York Giants hope to close in on the Browns or Steelers by thumping Washington at Washington. Surprising Minnesota is at home to the strong St. Louis Cards in another big game.

Dallas and Philadelphia, two disappointing clubs that have not won, meet at Philadelphia. Detroit, loser of its last two, entertains San Francisco making its first start under new coach Jack Christiansen.

In the American League League, the New York Jets defend their Eastern Division lead at the Polo Grounds against the Boston Patriots in a Saturday night game. Oakland will be at Buffalo on Saturday night. On Sunday it will be unbeaten San Diego at Denver and Houston at Kansas City.

We're still struggling with a 15-14-2 record. So here goes:

NFL

Pittsburgh 20, Cleveland 16—Saturday. That Steeler rush line may be tough for the Browns. It could be a field goal duel between Lou Michaels and Lou Groza.

Chicago 28, Baltimore 21—Bears, running a hot hand, are healthy. Colts will be missing Jimmy Orr but Johnny Unitas can make it tight.

Detroit 20, San Francisco 10—with John Brodie out of action, 49ers must go with Bob Waters or gamble on Lamar McHan, just acquired.

St. Louis 24, Minnesota 17—The Cards' good pass defense, plus the throwing of Charlie Johnson and the running of Joe Childress and Bill Triplett make the difference.

Green Bay 38, Los Angeles 10—Jim Taylor is a doubtful starter but the Packers have too much for the rebuilding Rams.

AFL

Buffalo 20, Oakland 14—Saturday. The Bills cannot go on losing forever. Jack Kemp is reported ready for duty.

New York 17, Boston 13—Saturday. The Jets are steamed up to reverse that 38-14 opening game defeat.

Forbes Tourney At Meadow Club

John F. Forbes, a past president and a founder of the Meadow Club, will be honored tomorrow at the second annual John F. Forbes golf tournament and dinner at the Fairfax club.

More than 120 players are entered in the tourney and will be competing for the Silver Bowl, awarded annually to the winner. Last year the tourney was won by Edwin Christie.

In addition to the silver trophy, there will be prizes for low net and runner-up in three classes, and awards for low putts and low gross. There will be a prize winner in each foursome, also.

MILQUETOASTS?

Women War With Women, Says Editor

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Women war against other women, not against men, and tend to regard men as milquetoasts. And, when you get to the basics, American men tend to be lousy lovers because they marry too young to have much experience circulating the field.

These are some of the conclusions reached by Janice Farrar Thaddeus, 30, an English teacher at Barnard College of Columbia University, and co-editor of a work published Sept. 25, called "When Women Look at Men."

THE WORK IS co-edited by John A. Kouwenhoven, also of the Barnard English faculty, and is an anthology of writings by women about men. All works have been published in the last 75 years—the same number of years Barnard has been a college.

Mrs. Thaddeus, member of a distinguished literary family, said she researched more than 1,000 published works in America before she and Kouwenhoven settled on the authors represented.

They include Pearl Buck, Margaret Mead, Marya Mannes, Dorothy Parker and Bette Davis.

"WHEN I FIRST began research, I thought one of the conclusions I'd find was one of women being against men," said Mrs. Thaddeus in an interview. "You know, the war between the sexes. But the war seems to be women versus women.

"Even such militant types as the Suffragettes seemed kindly toward men. They blamed institutions, not the opposite sex. Quite often," Mrs. Thaddeus continued, "the woman visualizes the man as a milquetoast. Yet she will look down on a failure, not only in business, but in his relationship with other people, even though she is the reason for his failure."

"SHE MAY NOT want her husband to be an oaf—like so many husbands on television—but she wants other husbands to be weak. There again, we're back to women versus women." She continued, "You'll notice that it's the women who mention 'the other woman' in a triangle. They don't say anything about what a cad the man might be."

Mrs. Thaddeus said she waded through "a lot of dull material" about how more suave the European male is than the American and about the "skirt chasers" which were not included in the anthology. Neither did she incorporate much about men as lovers, although her readings led her to conclude that as women writers look at the U.S. male he isn't much in the Lothario department.

Mrs. Thaddeus, a native New Yorker, is the daughter of John Farrar, chairman of the board of publishers of Farrar, Straus and Co., and Margaret Farrar, crossword puzzle editor of the New York Times.

SHE ATTENDED Radcliffe College, graduated from Barnard and is working on her doctorate at Columbia. Her marriage to her first husband, who was her high school English instructor, ended in divorce. Last spring, she married Patrick Thaddeus, an astrophysicist working at the Goddard Institute of Space Studies, New York, a part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

The co-editor said when she mentioned to any man of the anthology she and Kouwenhoven were compiling about men, the standard reply was, "Nothing good to say about us, I guess."

ON A HONEYMOON trip to the Pacific Northwest are Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Rudloph Schuette who were married Sept. 28 at the Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia. The bride is the former Susan Fay Zensuis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edward Zensius of San Rafael. The newlyweds will live in Berkeley where the bridegroom owns his own dental laboratory in association with Alfred Schon, who was the bridegroom's best man.

San Francisco Unit To Be Guest Of Marin Alumnae

Marin Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae club will meet at 8 p.m., Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Roland Trehearne, 1 Morgan Ln., San Rafael.

Guests will be the San Francisco Alumnae Club, Mrs. Frank Spurrier, president of East Bay Alumnae Chapter, and Mrs. Charles Myers, Northern California state chairman of Alpha Gamma Delta. Plans will be discussed for International Reunion Day at the Lakeside Country Club in San Francisco.

Artists And Non-Artists Form New Novato Group

A new Novato art group has been formed, designed to include artists, non-artists and a junior auxiliary of 12- to 21-year-old art aspirants.

The Novato Society of Advanced Art has been organized "for the purpose of restoring art definition to a point of understanding between the artist and his public.

"We are trying to give people a chance to have a voice in setting new art standards for public schools and art activities by opening the channel of communication between the painter and the patron," Mrs. Madeleine Lang, chairman pro tem, said. "We plan to eliminate the confusion of what is considered to be either 'good' or 'bad' art," she added.

The membership is open to all working artists and patrons of art who wish to help and partake in the movement to raise the present day standards of juries and the awarding of scholarships, Mrs. Lang said.

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 17 at the Nevin Kempthorne art studio, 60 Grove Lane, Novato, to discuss aims of the society and by-laws.

Beginning Nov. 3, all meetings will be held on the first Sunday of the month, at the Kempthorne Art Studio.

Belvedere Lagoon Regatta Days Having A Gala Finale

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Belvedere Lagoon Regatta Days, which began Wednesday, will conclude with a gala weekend. The regatta, sponsored by the Belvedere Sailing Society, marks the end of the sailing season on the lagoon. The homes and boats are gaily lighted at night. Tomorrow morning all the children of Belvedere are invited to participate in the relay swimming races. Prizes will be given to all the youngsters, Commodore Tim Harris, announces. At noon tomorrow a sailing competition for all classes of boats will be held. Following the races a cocktail party will be given by the Lou Hymans.

Tomorrow night, Dr. and Mrs. Benton Mathews will entertain at a dinner dance for members of the sailing society and other friends. Tonight Dr. and Mrs. William Ferguson will give a cocktail party and dinner for 45 of their Bay Area friends.

Sunday means a full day of racing on the lagoon and Commodore Harris will present the trophies at his home on the lagoon officially closing the sailing season. Commodore Harris and his wife are giving a cocktail party following the presentations.

MRS. JOHN D. PLAWCHAN of the Belvedere Lagoon had as her houseguest for a week, Mrs. Walter O. Hinkle of Fresno. They enjoyed regatta events on the lagoon and Mrs. Plawchan entertained at a brunch for Mrs. Hinkle. Others present were Mesdames Kenneth Davis, Richard Godwin, Fred Perley, Richard Smith, Jeromy Jones, Harold B. Jones, Francois Leydet, Chester Bunnel, Dick deBerry, Bert Stitt, Wayne Rawlings, Don Womsley, Donald Furlong, Irving Lipschultz, Vernon Girtler, Lester Johnson, Melvin Tyler, Steven Chipman, Maurice Dupart, William Bremer, Robert Knapp and Jean Baglion.

The party was also a farewell gesture by Mrs. Plawchan as she and her mother, Mrs. B. J. DeJarnatt of San Rafael, leave Monday for a six weeks tour of the Orient. On the flight back Mrs. Plawchan and her mother will stop in Hawaii to visit a long time friend, Miss Marge Studer, who lives in Honolulu.

SUZANNE RAGGHIANTI, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ragghianti of San Rafael, a Dominican Upper School graduate, now is attending University of California at Los Angeles, has pledged Alpha Phi sorority.

A WELL KNOWN interior decorator and flower arranger of Mill Valley will be a featured artist at the flower arrangements forum at the Rudolph Schaeffer School of Design in San Francisco tomorrow afternoon starting at 2 o'clock. The Marin artist is Helen Van Cleave Park Gosliner, known professionally as Helen Van Cleave Park.

A MOONLIGHT CRUISE IS PLANNED

Mesdames Phillip Baker, Urban Wild Jr., Donald Maritzen and Joseph Forest are planning a second annual moonlight cruise aboard the Harbor Prince, sponsored by the Terra Linda Guild of the Louise A. Boyd Science Museum. Sailing time will be 9 p.m. to midnight with passengers boarding the boat at the Trident restaurant's dock in Sausalito. Mrs. Maritzen is chairman of the affair and Mrs. Baker is reservations chairman. (Independent-Journal photo)

Portuguese Career Woman In North America-Gets TV Ideas

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The chic American woman looks to several fashion capitals at home and overseas for her clothes. The chic Portuguese woman looks to Paris, period.

"Even if the women go to the designers in Madrid, they'd say the dress came from France," laughed Mrs. Pedro Moutinho, 40, auburn-haired, blue-eyed, and one of Portugal's busiest working women.

HER CAREER IS a varied one which includes fashion coverage for radio and television in a nation with approximately 10 million population. Lisbon, her home town and home base, has approximately one million population, she said.

"Our women are very conscious of fashions," she said, in an interview. "The biggest Paris 'name' I would say is Balmain because his clothes stress simplicity, which our women like."

Mrs. Moutinho for three weeks has been visiting Eastern Canada and the United States on part vacation and partly to promote tourism to her area of the world. Professionally, she is known as Maria Leonor, a voice heard doing news, commentary and acting on radio; a commentator, interviewer and fashion show producer on television; writer for magazines and newspapers; and script writer and commentator for films.

HOW DOES SHE find time for such an assortment of duties?

"Oh," she said, "I just work seven days a week. And I don't have to worry about running a home so much as you do. Servants are plentiful and not so expensive in Portugal as they are in America."

Her husband is an announcer and commentator on radio and television also, she said. The couple has a 14-year-old son, Luis, who "wants to be a pilot."

Mrs. Moutinho said Portugal's population is just as spattered with working women as is the United States'. There is nothing novel about a woman bossing a business, a woman heading an industry, a woman on radio or television, a woman in such professions as teaching, medicine and law, she said.

SHE BEGAN HER broadcasting career in 1945 on Enissora Nacional, or National Radio Network, which is government-operated. Educated in a convent school in Lisbon and preparing to go on to a university to study law, she changed direction of career because of a family friend.

He suggested her voice was a "natural" for broadcasting. She won her first job because she ranked at the top in a series of tests the government gives to broadcaster potentials. She has had neither voice nor acting lessons, she said.

But she does a regular reading-acting show in which some well-known actor takes the other half of the dialogue. And she can interview in English, Spanish, Italian and French and translate for her audience.

MARIA LEONOR SAID that on this, her first visit to North America, she has done a lot of televiewing in hotel rooms as she traveled.

"I know many people criticize your commercials," she said. "But what you have here is what I'd like for us in Portugal to do. The informality of the shows. The light and lively touches, the punch.

"We are so very formal about it all."

Mrs. Bordessa Is Elected President

Mrs. Paul Bordessa has been elected president of the Lincoln School District Mothers' Club.

Columnist To Speak During OWC Lunch

Monique Benoit of San Francisco will be guest speaker at the Officers Wives' Club luncheon at Hamilton Air Force Base Tuesday, Oct. 8.

The officers' wives of the 78th Fighter Wing Maintenance and Supply will sponsor the luncheon to begin with a social hour at 12:30 p.m. Decorations will be in a continental theme.

Chairman of the luncheon is Mrs. John W. Jacobs. She will be assisted by Mesdames Joseph Cronin, food; John White and William Eyres, decorations; Pete Pavlica, program and Henry Remeis, hostess.

Don't Add Salt

Watch the salt when you are teaming ground beef with pork sausage for a meat loaf. Pork sausage varies in saltiness and the variety you buy may have enough salt for the loaf without any added.

Finding muscle-men is easy (look on almost any street corner). What isn't easy is finding muscle-men who have the other qualities that make an outstanding mover.

For example, we have a tough time getting men careful enough to meet our standards. Before anyone is accepted for a job with Bekins he must pass a performance test to determine his ability to handle delicate household possessions. If we see that he's inclined to drop things, we drop him.

And that's just part of what a man has to go through before he can become a Bekins mover. In fact, over half the men who apply for jobs with us are unable to make the grade. Of those who do, only half can make it through the first year of training.

At that time a man takes rigid tests to prove his ability. First comes a written examination on such things as packing, driving, and loading. Then a test where he performs all these skills properly in practice. After that, he must be approved by a board of review which includes other Bekins moving men (the toughest judges of all).

So, really, the most impressive thing about a Bekins moving man is that he is one.

What To Do With The Hunter's Quarry

Or

How To Cook Venison With Family Approval

VENISION a la Milanese is the recipe suggested by Mrs. George Gnoss of Novato when the man of the house comes home with his quarry of the hunt.

By DOROTHY NEWELL

At this time of year in Marin County, as well as other parts of California, the man of the house, and sometimes, if lucky, the woman of the house, throw hunting gear into the pickup truck or camper and head for the hills.

The purpose, of course, is to hunt for deer, which eventually ends up in the kitchen as venison.

THE MANY QUESTIONS we've heard voiced are "What do you do with venison?" or "I don't like it, it's too dry," or "I don't like the wild taste."

But cooks agree there are ways venison could be cooked, and found that Mrs. George Gnoss and Mrs. Donald Frost, both of Novato, have been cooking venison for several years and in a variety of ways.

Mrs. Gnoss, wife of Marin County clerk, listed several ways to cook venison, which she said, was very much like beef. Among the many ways she cooks venison is in stroganoff, scallopini, pot roast, steak and chops, and venison a la Milanese, a recipe handed down to her from her grandmother, Mrs. Daniel Bondietti.

To prepare venison a la Milanese, cut up into stew size pieces 2½ pounds of boneless venison. Place venison in large bowl and marinate with a diced medium sized onion, 4 cloves of garlic, one sprig each of rosemary, parsley and thyme, a green pepper cut in slices, and a pinch of allspice and pepper. Add enough wine to cover meat mixture, cover the bowl, and let stand in refrigerator four or five days.

REMOVE THE MEAT from bowl, drain in collander and save the juice. Add enough oil to brown the meat thoroughly in frying pan. When brown add 1 cup of mushrooms, salt and pepper to taste and add wine and herbs remaining from drained meat. Simmer for 10 minutes. Add 1 can of tomato sauce and ½ can of water. Simmer until tender for approximately 2½ hours.

Mrs. Gnoss says she prefers to serve the Milanese with spaghetti, rice or noodles, a tossed salad, French bread and red wine.

Another recipe that Mrs. Gnoss shared with us was marinated chops or steaks.

Marinate the chops or steaks in 1 cup of olive oil, ¼ cup wine vinegar, a sprig each of rosemary and thyme, 2 cloves of garlic and 1 tablespoon of finely chopped parsley. The chops can be marinated in the morning but they should be marinated not less than two or three hours. The venison, which should be cooked medium, can be either broiled or barbecued.

MRS. DONALD FROST, whose husband is director of public works for Marin County, is a member of a long line of deer hunters. Her father, as well as her husband, were born in deer hunting country in Mendocino County. Joan said that Donald went on his first deer hunting trip at the age of 11.

The Frost family prefers to have their venison prepared with a minimum of seasoning. Mrs. Frost advised that because the venison is drier than beef, it must be prepared with this in mind.

Joan learned her secret of preparing chops from her late father-in-law, Donald A. Frost. The chops may be pounded or not, but Joan always flours the meat, and grills them. When the juice rises to the surface of the chop, she turns them and seasons them. With the chops, her family prefers milk gravy and baking powder biscuits.

Attesting to Mrs. Frost's venison cooking, are the Frosts' three girls, Judith, 12, Nancy, 9, and Melinda, 6, who invariably say, "Oh, boy, venison for dinner."

ANOTHER FAVORITE of the Frost family is venison pot roast. Because the family likes gravy with the meat, Mrs. Frost starts preparation of the three- or four-pound venison roast by flouring it, and browning very well in about three tablespoons of salad oil. She uses a large iron Dutch oven. Salt and pepper can be added for personal taste as for a beef roast. Joan uses a grater to shred one medium onion to release all the flavor, 1 clove of garlic, 1 sprig each of thyme and marjoram, two whole cloves and two bay leaves which she sautes in the Dutch oven. She adds 1 cup of Chianti wine when the onions are sauted. As the roast is cooking 2½ to 3 hours, she adds water as needed to keep the gravy slightly thickened. Forty minutes before serving, she adds small boiling onions, 4 or 5 per person, whole carrots and potatoes. The pot roast should be cooked on a very low heat, preferably simmered. To complete the dinner, she serves a salad, wine and sour dough French bread, or baking powder biscuits.

MRS. FROST ALSO has a venison cookbook which is published by Colorado State Game and Fish Dept, in cooperation with the state Home Economics Dept. Here you will find a recipe for venison mince meat, she says.

THE FROST family prefers its venison in pot roast style with gravy, says Mrs. Donald Frost of Novato, who adds carrots, onions and potatoes to complete the meal. (Independent-Journal photos)

A Bridge Party For Charity By Thursday Group

Marin County bridge players, both beginners and advanced, will be able to play duplicate bridge and contribute to charity at the same time on Oct. 24 at the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Cleone Myers' Thursday afternoon bridge club will sponsor a charity game, with all proceeds going to the American Cancer Society and United Cerebral Palsy funds.

The Thursday afternoon bridge club meets every week at 12:30 p.m. in the Northgate Building at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Where You Live May Decide Taste

If you're a West Virginian, for instance, you like your decor in the contemporary vein, spiked with plenty of color, and with figures of animals or birds in pictures.

But if you're from Northern California, you prefer Early American styling, in natural wood or wood tone finishes and with inanimate objects such as clocks and pot-bellied stoves.

Senator Engle Is A Worthy Champion Of The People

To know U.S. Senator Clair Engle is to like him and respect him.

The sudden onset of his present illness came as a shock to his friends. It saddens our hearts.

Public office holders can be divided into two groups. In one group are those who cannot tolerate disagreement, get angry at opponents and usually wind up making their opponents angry.

In the other group, which includes Clair Engle, are those who do not let disagreement "get their goat"; they show respect for opponents and wind up winning the respect of those with whom they disagree.

It might be said that when a politician matures to the degree that he moves from the first group to the second, he earns the right to be called statesman.

In our book, Senator Engle, with whom we mostly disagree, can properly be called a statesman.

It is unfortunate that there is so much mystery and speculation about Engle's illness. Apparently he has a brain tumor. Those closest to him have attempted to conceal the detail of his illness from the public that he represents.

The actions of these associates are not worthy of the senator. We feel quite sure that, were he able, he would want to tell his constituents the whole truth, "letting the chips fall."

There has been some suggestion that his limited means may be influencing him NOT to resign. It is suggested that in his quarter of a century of public service—from young-manhood to maturity—he has not had the opportunity to acquire a private fortune which would enable him to retire at this time.

Our earnest wish and prayer is that he may have a speedy recovery and return to his duties.

In this connection we thought Republican Congressman Charles Gubser, mentioned as a possible candidate for Engle's Senate seat, displayed a commendable attitude.

"I hope the senator recovers and is able to run for re-election when his term expires. I have been considering the possibility of entering the campaign against him at that time," Kubser said in effect.

To which we say, "Amen."

We might even support Gubser.

But meanwhile we are saddened by the Senator's illness. We hope he recovers. We hope that his is able, if he wishes, to campaign for re-election.

We may not agree with him politically, but we think he is nonetheless a worthy representative of the people in our highest legislative chamber.

A Lesson In Thrift

That reckless, rascally buccaneer of the treetops, the California jay, would seem to most people to be the last bird with thrifty, saving habits. But he starts in autumn to hoard acorns, and keeps building up his supply until midwinter.

We first noticed the jays had a special interest in the porch roof, where the asbestos shingles met the wood at the edge. Jays were very active, pecking and pounding last autumn. Closer examination revealed a neat row of acorns pounded between the roof and shingles. Sort of money in the bank for use on a rainy day.

We have since learned that hoarding acorns in this manner is common among the jays. A lesson in thrift from a strange source.

401 Californians Receiving Education For Employment

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — The 1962 Manpower Development and Training Act has scored some successes, according to figures put out by the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare.

About 70 per cent of the 8,000 workers who completed vocational education courses in the past year have found jobs—almost all of them in training-related occupations.

In the much younger on-the-job part of the training program, all but two of the 167 persons who finished the training are employed.

With the program underway a little over a year, the Office of Education announced that as of Aug. 19, 1,671 vocational projects with 63,520 trainees had been approved.

SO FAR $3,090,176 has been allocated to California for 124 projects involving 370 trainees. In addition, the state has 31 persons in on-the-job training under the act.

In his June 19 Message on Civil Rights and Job Opportunities, President Kennedy proposed a series of amendments to the 1962 Act. He urged Congress to increase expenditures and change the eligibility requirements for trainees so that greater numbers of poorly educated and youthful unemployed would be able to benefit.

As the Manpower Development and Training program stands now, training allowances equal to state unemployment compensation payments are granted to some of the trainees while they are taking courses.

The only persons eligible for these grants are heads of families with three years of employment experience and youths 19-21 years old. The youths receive no more than five per cent of the allowances.

IN ORDER to enable more youths to enter the vocational and on-the-job training programs, President Kennedy proposed raising from 5 per cent to 15 per cent the amount of the total training allowance allocated to youths and lowering from 19 to 16 the minimum age for training allowances.

To avoid encouraging youths to drop out of school to get the training allowance, the president suggested that no allowance be paid until three months after a person left school.

The administration found that another problem in administering the program was the large number of unemployed who were not sufficiently well educated to be trained for a specific occupation. The Labor Department said that the bill's provisions which limited training to those "eminently qualified" resulted in "the danger of 'retraining the best and disregarding the rest.'"

The president, therefore, requested pretraining courses in reading, writing and arithmetic to enable "functional illiterates"—for instance, persons unable to perform tasks because of inability to read instructions—to take advantage of the manpower training program.

Capt. Oko Aided Marin City

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The many friends of Capt. Oko appreciate, I am sure, the fine story and editorial you published about him after his recent death.

However, there is one aspect of his life in Marin which is not generally known, and for which he deserves great credit.

It was Oko who, as a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee for the Redevelopment of Marin County, led the fight against an indifferent and disgruntled housing authority to obtain quality architectural design for the apartment houses and multiple residences in the redeveloped area of Marin City.

Had it not been for his gadfly insistence that only the best architects be engaged for the program, the beautiful buildings which grace the community might have been just another collection of eyesores produced by public housing hacks.

I served on the committee with him and thus observed his activities in this matter which has never become public.

Use Of Color Red In Commercial Signs

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Although fully cognizant of the fact that it is an editor's prerogative to write his editorials as he sees the situation, it was with considerable amazement that we read the second section of your editorial appearing in your Sept. 16 issue.

"Red Light for Commercial Red Lights" displays the utmost unfamiliarity with the basic concept underlying Amalgamated Assn.'s request that the sign ordinance of the County of Marin and City of Novato be amended to allow the use of "red or similar colors" in illuminated signs.

Your statement "it's inconsistent for there to be two rules on the subject in Marin County . . ." is the only part of your editorial that displays any logic.

If the 10 incorporated cities of Marin that now allow the use of red lighting in signs were to change their sign ordinance to conform to the existing county and City of Novato ordinance, just what would you gain? You would still have the core of these cities, as their boundaries now stand, with red lighting and then any additional areas that may be annexed as time passes would have no red lighting. Your editorial states " . . . is confusing . . ." What could be more confusing than to have this situation?

It is interesting to learn that you have joined up with the small IDEALIST GROUP who have no consideration for the reasonable rights of others and still think Marin is their personal back yard to do with as they politically can.

Amalgamated Assns. have kept this matter on the highest philosophical plane possible and we hope that it will continue on this path.

We are not quibbling about the sign ordinance as it pertains to blinking or flashing signs, the limit as to size, etc., but we feel that these restrictions and existing state laws as it pertains to brilliance, etc., are quite sufficient to avoid any overly brilliant or unsightly sign being placed in use.

Rough Trucks Are Afflicting Tiburon

Editor, Independent-Journal:

An addition, if you please, to Mr. Edward Parnell's letter, "Road Hazards on Tiburon."

Should one of those three-foot boulders, of which he spoke, hit your car, you would know it did so because it could not signal you out of the way, obey traffic rules, or show sense or courtesy. However, none of these excuses will prevail when one of the Brown and Ely drivers picks off a car or two on Tiburon Boulevard, as I am sure is bound to happen.

Instances of thoughtless, unlawful and downright reckless driving by the Brown and Ely personnel, in equipment plainly marked with the company name, should be a source of concern to the company, if only for the value of good public relations. I am sure that regular commuters could compile a healthy list of near-accidents if anyone showed any interest.

To cite an opener: One evening some weeks back, while waiting to turn left out of the Bel Aire sub-division, a long-looked-for break in traffic occurred when the westbound lane cleared and the eastbound lane was occupied by an approaching Brown and Ely pick-up signalling for a right turn.

Since at that intersection there is a right turn junction, this writer gratefully started to turn, only to become aware, before gathering speed, thank goodness, that the truck was driven by what has been referred to as a "blinking idiot."

After hurling some epithet at the "dumb woman driver" he presumed me to be, he continued his blinking way down the road. Since then I have seen numerous B and E pick-ups blinking their way along, miles at a time never turning.

And to close this bit, the other morning, during the commute rush a piece of heavy equipment pulled onto Tiburon Boulevard, with no signal, and no apparent care, travelled a distance west in the eastbound lane on a section of road which had limited visibility due to a small rise, and after some two or three hundred feet pulled back off the road, whipping a piece of towed equipment across the double line into the path of westbound cars.

So far as I know, no one has yet been hurt, but that's only "yet!" If and when an investigation is made, safety might well be looked into, too!

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

George Bernard Shaw, no blushing violet, was scheduled to depart for a round-the-world trip when a lady admirer told him, "We envy you the trip you've planned. My daughter has been talking of nothing else." Shaw told her loftily, "The whole WORLD is talking about my trip!"

Shaw's distinguished contemporary, Joseph Conrad, disliked him cordially — possibly because at their first meeting Shaw informed him, "You know, my dear fellow, your stuff really won't do."

P. G. Wodehouse has carefully preserved a newspaper clipping sent to him by an admirer in India. It tells how a cow wandered into the bungalow of a Mr. Elwyn in the Mandla District, and consumed contentedly a copy of Wodehouse's "Carry On, Jeeves," ignoring completely three other books that stood alongside it. The three other books, furthermore, were, respectively, by Thomas Hardy, Henry Fielding and William Shakespeare.

Tito Visit Raises Question Of What U.S. Got For Its Money

BELGRADE — When President Josip Broz Tito arrives in Washington Oct. 17 to confer with President Kennedy on trade and foreign policy, one question which most Americans would like him to answer is this: What has the United States got for its two-and-a-half billion dollars of aid to Yugoslavia during the past 15 years?

This question greatly concerned the six senators and 12 congressmen who made up the American delegation to the conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union here in Belgrade. They raised it pointedly on several occasions.

It is a good question, a fair question, particularly since Congress is being asked by the Administration to reverse the decision it made a year ago denying Yugoslavia most-favored-nation treatment in trade. The most-favored-nation provisions means that when the U. S. makes tariff arrangements with one country, it grants the same arrangement with other nations.

FIRST, IT SHOULD be understood that all U. S. aid to Yugoslavia is ended. Aid is neither being sought nor given.

But the U.S. has put a lot of resources into Yugoslavia. It is reasonable to want to know what benefit they have produced for us, because there is no justification for such aid unless it serves our national interests.

The facts, I think, show that we have received large dividends.

Until Tito broke with Stalin in 1948, Soviet-controlled military forces lined the Adriatic and stood menacingly along the borders of Greece, Austria, Italy, and Albania.

Tito's declaration of independence from Russia wiped out this menace at one stroke. American aid has greatly helped to nourish and sustain that independence until Yugoslavia could get on its feet economically. It has done so by virtue of its own hard work, through U. S. aid, and through the economic resurgence of all of Western Europe. Yugoslavian trade is now 77 per cent with the West, only 23 per cent with the Soviet bloc and other countries.

Only a Yugoslavia independent of the Soviet Union could pursue policies which have produced the foregoing results. Its independence is possibly only because of its economic association with the U. S. and Western Europe.

CLEARLY IT IS in the interests of the United States to do everything practicable to keep it that way.

It seems to me shortsighted for Congress to direct the Administration to discriminate against Yugoslavia in withdrawing the normal most-favored-nation provision. We were, of course, piqued by Tito's refusal to criticize the Soviet Union for breaking the test moratorium in 1961. This was one of Belgrade's political mistakes.

But Yugoslavia has often sided with the U. S. at the UN and has more frequently voted with the unaligned nations than with the Soviets.

If Congress does not soon reverse its action cutting off Yugoslavia and Poland from normal trade relations, the effect of this policy will be exactly the opposite of what its sponsors said they want. It will not help isolate Eastern Europe from the Soviet Union; it will isolate us from Eastern Europe and abandon the field to the Soviets. Surely this is a policy of retreat, not advance, and a detriment to the national interests and security of the United States.

The choice before us in Eastern Europe today is not between supporting communism on the one hand and democracy on the other. The choice is between governments dominated by Moscow and governments, like Yugoslavia's, which, while Communist, are independent, which are not abetting the Communist conspiracy, and which are pursuing their own national interests—not Russia's national interests.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Nixon Maneuvering Back Into The Public Eye

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Former Vice Pres. Richard Nixon is maneuvering to get back into the "public eye" of the political hurricane that GOP presidential hopefuls are stirring up.

He is following the lead of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and flying to Europe for a two-week "business trip," including a headline-making meeting with France's Pres. Charles de Gaulle.

On his return early in November, Nixon plans to come directly to Washington for a round of conferences with Republican leaders both in and out of Congress.

DESPITE HIS repeated denials of any presidential aspirations in 1964, Nixon intends to jump back into the national spotlight while in the capital with one major speech and a press conference.

To stir up additional interest in the Nixon meetings here, efforts are being made to induce former President Eisenhower to join in the talks. Eisenhower's presence also is designed to spike reports about a political rift between the two one-time GOP office holders and running mates.

According to Nixon's friends, the main purpose of the new buildup is to boost his sagging influence in party circles and slow down the presidential boom of Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Nixon hopes to achieve this objective by pushing for a "free and open convention" —urging as many GOP governors and senators as possible to become favorite-son candidates.

IN THIS political maneuver, Nixon has the support of Governor Rockefeller, who privately favors a second try for the unsuccessful 1960 GOP candidate if he can't make it.

Thomas E. Dewey, two-time GOP presidential candidate and one of Rockefeller's chief supporters, is advising Nixon on his political strategy. Almost any Sunday they can be spotted as golfing partners in New York.

Dewey is stressing that Nixon should keep his political pipelines open in order to become the party's "unity" candidate should a deadlock develop in San Francisco next July. Nixon, who is now content to try his hand at kingmaking, is following Dewey's advice.

GOLDWATER BOOM — Whether Nixon's active entrance into the political arena will be able to slow down the Goldwater boom is conjectural.

Already strong pressure is being exerted on Michigan's Gov. George Romney by Republican county chairmen in his state to abandon his plans to become a favorite-son at the 1964 convention.

Goldwater supporters here say that 70 per cent of the GOP county chairmen now support the Arizona senator and have assured their candidate that they are privately urging Governor Romney to forget about the presidential race and seek re-election next year instead. These county chairmen are reported ready to go all out in the governor's bid for a second term if he heads a Goldwater-for-President slate in San Francisco.

Civilized Marin Has No Need To Join With Any Herd

IF VACATIONS are supposed to be a time of refreshment and instruction, something must have gone awry during my recent holiday.

I don't think I learned much, and a great part of the two-week excursion seemed spent in roaming the state for fair weather, leaving little time for self-renewal and all that.

Few things can be as dull as recitals of how-we-spent-our-vacation or trips to the dentist, but I must say something about why it seemed that, with a couple of exceptions, nothing very edifying took place.

No new horizons suddenly appeared, and I had the uneasy impression we were not far from home.

I THINK the feeling goes back to the days we spent in a delightful state park near San Juan Capistrano, where we found sun — until the rains and high tides came—and where we also found a copy of a Laguna Beach newspaper.

There was much ado in the columns of this journal about the formation of local civil rights committees and a chapter of the NAACP. There was also a lively concern over the identity of Laguna Beach, and right away I thought of Marin.

Some fellow in the local paper was raising a fuss about how the area must struggle to keep out of Greater Los Angeles and "seek its own identity." In helping Laguna Beach to identify itself he sought to remind everybody how the town has much in common with Santa Barbara and Carmel — all have playhouses and hate Los Angeles, for instance.

IN THE FACE of urban sprawl and sameness there appears to be the formation of a bloc of communities which like to be considered the last outposts of intelligence, tolerance and iconoclasm.

It may be that such a trio of cities have little hope if they must cling together, and they may not have much more in common than as pleasant resorts where forgotten authors and retired generals withdraw to write their memoirs.

What is disturbing is that Marin, which likes to call up its identity every so often, might seek the company of other places where it thinks it sees favorable reflections. Some would already add Marin to the Santa Barbara-Carmel-Laguna Beach complex, but it's a step in the wrong direction.

If a place can't stand on its own, it has lost its vitality and was never civilized in the first place.

WHILE AWAY I was also ignorant of the final fling over a new retirement plan for Marin County employees. It was a sad example of how communications were disrupted and eventually abandoned.

Anybody who was against the plan as adopted was at once branded as a heartless penny-pincher who cared not a hoot for the welfare of employees. At the same time, the employees were given the impression from some quarters that they were undeserving and could make out well enough on a pittance.

People in favor of the plan and those who asked for sober consideration of other retirement benefits agreed the employees should have something better than what might be gleaned from the old plan. Nobody should have to be reminded that there are plenty of hard-working county employees, and they pay taxes, too.

ART BUCHWALD

Terrible Task Persuading Folk You Don't Want Presidency

WASHINGTON — There have been several people mentioned for the Republican nomination for president in 1964, but so far not one candidate has come out publicly and admitted he wanted it. As a matter of fact, all the candidates so far have denied they're seeking the job.

We were very fortunate to speak to one of the candidates who has been insisting he doesn't want to run for president. His name is Barry Nelson Goldfeller.

"That is correct. I am not a candidate."

"WHEN DID you decide not to run for president?"

"Sometime early last year. I think I announced it at a campaign fund-raising dinner in Illinois. I then confirmed it at a rally in Denver and I've been denying it ever since in speeches throughout the country."

"Why did you decide not to be a candidate?"

"I felt the country was in a mess, our foreign policy had hit an all-time low, the Cuban situation was a disgrace, and the Democrats were driving us to socialism. I therefore felt it was my sacred duty to announce that I would not be a candidate for the highest office."

"But clubs have started up all over the United States supporting you in 1964. Surely you must be aware of them."

"I HAVE NEVER encouraged anyone to support my nomination. Of course I can't control what individuals do."

"It must be hard not to be a presidential candidate."

"It certainly is—and very expensive. I've had to talk with Republican leaders, delegates, citizens' committees, women's clubs, and officials from Maine to California. I think the best way to deny you are a candidate is to talk to the people personally and tell them how you feel."

"But there are some who feel that you are a candidate."

"I KNOW THAT and I'm doing everything I can to impress on them the fact that I am not."

"Well, is there any possible chance that you would accept the nomination if people wanted you?"

"At this time absolutely not. As I told 50,000 people in Los Angeles only last week, we must find a candidate who is fearless, willing to say what he thinks, able to stand up to the Russians, fight communism at home, and get this country back on its feet again. Surely I am not a candidate if I am willing to say these things in public."

"BUT DESPITE your denials there is a Goldfeller bandwagon and people seem to be getting on it. Supporters are raising money all over the country for you."

"I have sent out letters to every Republican chairman in the United States pointing out I do not want to be president, and urging them to tell everyone they know that I am not a candidate. I've followed this up with telephone calls and telegrams and I've even brought several of them to Washington to discourage their support. I don't think there is much more I could have done."

"It seems to me you've covered all the bases," we said. "Is there anything else you would like to add?"

"There is, but unfortunately I have to leave now for Madison Square Garden. There are 20,000 people waiting for me who are still not aware that I am not a candidate in 1964."

This Lawyer Plays Bridge Hand With Two-Fold Plan

A good lawyer always has two strings to his bow. "My client was a thousand miles away when the murder was committed," he will argue. "And anyway it was self defense."

Burt Marks, who proved to the California Supreme Court that bridge is a game of skill, not only argues that way — he plays a hand two ways at once.

West opened the five of hearts and Marks won in his hand. He was sure of six trumps, two aces, and the king of diamonds. He needed only one other trick to score game and rubber.

ONE WAY

One way to play the hand was to try for a club ruff in dummy. But persistent trump leads by West would clear the trumps out of dummy and prevent a ruff.

Another plan was to set up one of dummy's diamonds by ruffing. But there might not be enough entries to dummy for that plan.

Marks tried both plans at once. He cashed the king of diamonds and led a low club.

NO STOPPING

If West failed to return a heart, declarer would have time to ruff a club in dummy.

For example, if West returned a spade, declarer would put up dummy's ace and return a club. Then nothing could stop a club ruff.

If West returned a heart, dummy's nine would be a safe entry to dummy. (If West led a heart and East could play the 10 of hearts, South would win and then dummy's last trump could not be knocked out to prevent a club ruff.)

CASH ACE

Then declarer could cash the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond, get back with the ace of hearts to ruff another diamond and finally get back with the ace of spades to cash the last diamond.

You don't have to be a lawyer to play a hand with two plans in mind.

If you don't get one, the other may come through.

Tam High Board Due Plan On TB

A tuberculosis skin testing programs for pupils at Tamalpais High School next spring will be recommended to the Tamalpais Union High School District board at its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in district headquarters on the Redwood High School campus.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said he will recommend the plan to the board on the basis of a suggestion by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., which would conduct the program with the county health department.

If the program succeeded at Tam, he would suggest its spread to the district's two other high schools, said Carlisle.

Annual UNICEF Drive Chairmen Are Named

Halloween is not until Oct. 31, but already several young spooks and several representatives of the annual UNICEF drive are starting to think about it.

Mrs. Dore N. Schwab Jr. of Winding Way, Ross, general county chairman for the drive for the United Nations' children's fund, has already named the area chairmen for the trick or treat drive. They are:

Mrs. Joseph A. McConnell Jr., San Geronimo Valley; Mrs. James P. Sherman, Fairfax; Mrs. Irwin Gold, San Anselmo; Mrs. Leslie Denman Smith, Ross; Mrs. Russell Klein, Kentfield; Mrs. Robert Gordon, Greenbrae;

Mrs. Harold Kling, Larkspur-Corte Madera; Mrs. Ernest Kroner, Mill Valley; Mrs. John G. Donhoff, Homestead Valley; Mrs. Thomas Laufer, Sausalito; Mrs. Earl Siegel, Terra Linda; Mrs. Gust Stromner, Marinwood; Mrs. Alan Gibish, Lucas Valley (east); Mrs. Monte Toole, Lucas Valley (west); Mrs. John D. Mayer, Belvedere; Mrs. David D. Ring, Tiburon; Mrs. Martin Marks, East San Rafael, and the First Presbyterian Church, San Rafael.

Persons interested in participating may notify their area chairman or Mrs. Schwab.

You Want Some Fried Marbles?

Cafferty says he puts clear glass marbles of various colors and sizes into a dry cast iron skillet and "fries" them for 15 minutes, then dumps them in ice water.

The temperature change "crackles" the inside of the marbles without changing their shape. Cafferty says they can be used for costume jewelry, flower arrangements or aquarium decorations.

International Club Elects

Theodore Papaionnou of Greece, who lives at 6 Fay Drive, Kentfield, has been elected president of the College of Marin International Relations Club, club faculty adviser George Duncan announced today.

Isao John Arimatsu of Japan, who lives at 35 Bellevue Avenue, San Rafael, was elected vice president, and Rozell Preddy of 202 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Papaionnou was elected over two other students and Arimatsu and Preddy were each winners over three other nominees.

Sally Stanford Movie Planned

A movie dealing with the life of Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) of Sausalito is expected to be filmed in Sausalito and San Francisco starting on Mrs. Owen's birthday, May 5. Tentatively it is to be called "The Business of Love."

It will be taken from her autobiography, "No Profit in Eden," to be published in December by G. P. Putnam and Sons.

The motion picture has been optioned to Independent Producers Assn., Mrs. Owen said, and radio and television actor Arthur Godfrey will play one of the supporting roles. Actresses, to be selected by Mrs. Owen, have not been named.

Mrs. Owen is owner of the Valhalla Inn at Second and Main streets, Sausalito.

Creampuffs '62 Buick Skylarks $2695

Here are two of the hardest-to-find used cars on the market today. They are Buick's best seller by far. Both are locally-owned trade-ins that we took in on new '64 Buicks.

One is jet-black with fire engine red all-leather interior. Fully equipped including power steering, power seat, power brks and power windows. A really beautiful car that has had exceptional care by its only owner. Low mileage.

The other is midnight blue with white top. Blue bucket seats and upholstery. Not a mark of wear anywhere on the car. Power steering, automatic, radio, heater, w/w tires and all the Buick luxury items. Sold new and serviced by us since.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF IMPROVEMENT SAN RAFAEL MEADOWS SEWERAGE PROJECT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 25th day of September, 1963, the Sanitary Board of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, Marin County, California, adopted its Resolution of Intention No. 424 wherein it did declare that in its opinion the public interest and convenience required, and that it was the intention of said Board to order the acquisitions and improvements hereinafter described.

All of said work and improvements are to be constructed at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes, dimensions and materials, and at the lines, grades and elevations shown and delineated on the plans, profiles and specifications preliminarily approved therefor by the Sanitary Board of said District and on file for public inspection in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is hereby given of the fact that in many cases said work and improvements will bring the finished surface of the ground to a grade different from the surface as it now exists, and that to said extent said grades will be changed and that said work will be done to said changed grades.

Said contemplated acquisitions and improvements, in the opinion of said Board, are of more than local or ordinary public benefit, and the costs and expenses thereof are made chargeable upon an assessment district, the exterior boundaries of which district are the composite and consolidated area shown on the map thereof on file in the office of the Secretary, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

The acquisitions and improvements are described as follows:

(a) The acquisition of a pump station site within and/or adjacent to the existing San Rafael Meadows Treatment Plant adjacent to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way and the construction and installation thereon of a sewage pumping station complete with pumps, motors, piping, mechanical and electrical equipment and structural additions and alterations, control building and all appurtenances thereto, including the removal, dismantling or alteration of existing treatment plant equipment and structures.

(b) The construction and installation of a sanitary sewage force main and all appurtenances thereto from said pumping station southerly along Merrydale Road to a connection with the existing trunk sewer of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District on Los Gallinas Avenue.

(c) The construction and installation of the connections necessary to connect the existing sanitary sewers of the San Rafael Meadows Sewer Maintenance District and the trunk sewer of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District located at the intersection of Los Gallinas Avenue and Las Flores Avenue.

(d) The construction and installation of sewer mains, intercepting sewers, standard manholes with standard manhole frames and covers, rodholes, wye branches, laterals and appurtenances, where necessary; the cleaning and repairing of sanitary sewage mains where necessary; the adjusting of existing sanitary sewerage manholes to grade; and all work incidental and necessary for the connection and integration of existing facilities of the San Rafael Meadows Sewer Maintenance District and adjacent areas served thereby with the sanitary sewer system and facilities of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

(e) The acquisition of disposal and use rights in sewage treatment and disposal facilities of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District on behalf of properties within the assessment district, including the right to discharge sewage from the assessment district into and through main trunk, interceptor and outfall sewers and appurtenances of said Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, and the right to have said sewage discharged from said assessment district treated and disposed of in the disposal plant of said Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District and the acquisition of disposal capacity rights in said sewerage facilities and plant.

(f) The acquisition of all easements, property and works, the doing of all work and the construction of all improvements auxiliary to any of the above and necessary to complete the same.

The estimated cost of said project is $39,520, of which the Maintenance District will contribute approximately $18,170.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bear interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, will be issued hereunder in the manner provided in the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 (Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code), the last installment of which bonds shall mature not to exceed four (4) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten months from their date.

The descriptions of the acquisitions and improvements and the termini of the work contained in the Resolution of Intention are general in nature. All items of work do not necessarily extend for the full length of the description thereof. The plans and profiles of the work, and maps and descriptions as contained in the Engineer's report, shall be controlling as to the correct and detailed description thereof.

Except as herein otherwise provided for the issuance of bonds, said work shall be done pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913.

Reference is hereby made to proceedings had pursuant to Division 4 of the Streets and Highways Code, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Notice is further given that the District Engineer, pursuant to said Act and said Resolution of Intention, adopted pursuant thereto, did on the 25th day of September, 1963, file with the Secretary of said District his report in writing on said acquisitions and improvements, consisting of plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs and incidental expenses, diagram and assessment, maps and descriptions, and said Secretary did on said date consider and examine said report and by resolution preliminarily approved and confirmed same and ordered that said report shall stand as the report for the purposes of all subsequent proceedings had pursuant to said Resolution of Intention.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that Thursday, the 14th day of November, 1963, at the hour of 7:30 o'clock P.M. of said day, in the regular meeting place of said Board, Treatment Plant, 300 Smith Ranch Road, San Rafael, California, are the time and place appointed and fixed by said Board when and where it will consider and finally act upon the Engineer's report filed pursuant to said Resolution of Intention and when and where it will hear all protests in relation to said proposed acquisitions and improvements, or to the grades at which said work will be done, or the extent of the assessment district, or to the Engineer's estimate of the costs and expenses thereof, or to the proposed diagram and assessment, or to the maps and descriptions, and that any person interested may file a written protest with the Secretary at or before the time set for the hearing referred to herein.

Reference is hereby made to said Resolution of Intention and said report, including plans, profiles, specifications, estimate of costs, diagram and assessment, and maps and descriptions, for a more particular description of said acquisitions and improvements to be had and done, and for further particulars, all on file in the office of the Secretary.

Dated: September 25, 1963.

ANYONE FOR SQUASH?

These huge examples of squash serve as a peekaboo for 3-year-old Lisa Lombardo (left) and her sister Kim, 6. Dominick Verteramo was surprised at the growth of such giants—he calls them banana squash—in his Albany, N.Y., backyard garden. Squash at left is 46 inches long, 150 pounds, while the other is 48 inches, 160 pounds. (AP Wirephoto)

School Bonds Held Perhaps Most Important Voter Issue

San Rafael Elementary School District's two elementary school bond issues to be voted on next Tuesday may be the "most important matter to come before San Rafael voters in many years," radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" panel members declared yesterday.

One proposed is to authorize $670,000 for addition of multi-purpose rooms to nine schools. The other, 3.3 million dollars, will be for new classroom and building construction.

Importance of both was agreed upon by panelists Bert C. Corona, San Rafael schools superintendent; Frank M. Parker, chairman of the Bond and Tax Campaign Committee; and Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson and Mrs. James Staley, committee members.

"During the next 20 years," Corona said, "we expect to add at least 11 new schools to the district, more than doubling the existing number. These bond issues will be for a six-year construction program to expand our present schools and build two new schools at sites to be determined."

Mrs. Anderson said the bond issues would allow smaller classes for improved student participation and relations with teachers.

Most questions from radio listeners were aimed at the bond issue for multi-purpose room construction. Mrs. Staley said the issue was proposed separately from other construction "to let voters decide whether they want this new policy."

Mrs. Anderson said the multi-purpose rooms would free other rooms for class use and would allow large assemblies, rainy day activities, and community use. The Dixie School District, she said, uses its multi-purpose rooms an average of five hours a day.

A multi-purpose room now at the Santa Venetia School is used regularly, Corona said, and use of such rooms should be "uniform throughout the district."

Taxpayers will pay less for retirement of the proposed issues than they now do for 2.4 million dollars of outstanding bonds in the district, Parker said. The present rate of about 51 cents per $100 for bond redemption should drop to 41 cents because of greater assessed valuation in the district, Corona said.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast by tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m. A "Sounding Board" discussion of the proposed San Rafael High school District 50-cent tax rate increase, also to be voted on Tuesday, was broadcast in August.

Heading For Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — An American trade and development mission is to visit Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika and Zanzibar this month, it was reported here yesterday. The mission will start its tour in Kenya Oct. 26 in a bid to promote U.S. trade with East Africa.

Foreign Student Gets Scholarship

Former College of Marin student John Shoka has been awarded an undergraduate scholarship by the Phelps-Stokes Foundation of New York, Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond announced today.

Shoka, a native of Tanganyika, is majoring in political science at San Francisco College after two years at College of Marin.

He is eligible to receive $300 a semester until he completes work on a bachelor of arts degree. Diamond said College of Marin helped Shoka get the award.

The Phelps-Stokes Foundation provides financial aid to foreign students attending American collegs and universities.

MARIN FILM FARE

Movie Takes Long Look At Women

By LESLIE DARD

Here's the roundup of Marin County movie fare for this weekend:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

If you were among the many fans captivated by "Mondo Cane," look now at "Women of the World," a new release of the same genre by Italian producer-photographer Gualtiero Jacopetti and his dedicated crew.

It opens Sunday.

"Women" is a sort of travelogue, with Jacopetti's searching cameras sticking their adroit orbs into innumerable places they should never have been among women the world over. It's an anatomical adventure depicting the fair sex at its best and very worst, at its most primitive and most sophisticated.

The wiles of women in Israel, Italy, Paris, Stockholm, Papua, China, New Guinea, Sardinia, Tahiti—to mention a few—are shown in courtship, marriage, child-bearing, primping and politicking.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Trial and Error" is the newest effort of the prolific Peter Sellers. Combined with more than a little pathos, the picture might be construed as an attack on the British judicial system.

Sellers plays an aging attorney so unsuccessful he has never before tried a case. His first is a dilly: murder.

LARK THEATER

When Mr. G. passes out from too much drink in a French cafe, he is a soused, mousy English don. When he wakes from his chance encounter with a decadent county (also Guiness), he finds himself in the latter's clothes and bearing the latter's identification.

For convenience and curiosity he continues the masquerade and heads for the count's seedy chateau, which contains: Bette Davis, his dowager mother; Irene Worth, his fearfully neurotic wife; a fanatic teenage daughter, Annabel Bartlett, and a nasty sister.

NOVATO THEATER

Two comedies arrive Sunday, brings back Jerry Lewis in day:

"Period of Adjustment" is a Tennessee Williams product but more conventional than most. Hardly a neurosis.

Janes Fonda and Jim Hutton play newlyweds, quickly disillusioned. Off on a miserable honeymoon, they stop to visit Hutton's war buddy, Anthony Franciosa, only to discover that after six years of marriage, his wife has left him. But then, he had married her for money, anyway.

101 DRIVE-IN

The film takes a difficult subject, explores it honestly, tenderly, realistically. It is less a story about alcoholism than one about two people, their love and a horrifying liquor problem.

SEQUOIA THEATER

The movie version of President John F. Kennedy's exploits as new commander of a Navy Patrol-torpedo boat during World War II arrives Sunday.

"PT-109," even without the Kennedy glamor, would have strong appeal for many as an action-comedy-adventure that is competently produced, directed and performed.

The film is only slightly self-conscious about the future role of its central figure. Cliff Robertson, as young Lt. (j.g.) John F. Kennedy, gives a reasonable characterization of a young officer trying to make good.

RAFAEL THEATER

The best adventure film to come along in some time, "The Great Escape," returns Sunday to the Rafael.

An all-male cast and an unusual story combine with dramatic talent in depth to make the picture an outstanding Hollywood effort. Its setting is Bavaria during World War II in a new German prison camp for troublesome POWs.

MOTOR MOVIES

The Boxers were determined to drive foreigners out of China, supported by the Dowager Empress (Flora Robson). They lay seige to Peking's International Compound, where 11 legations who refused to leave were concentrated.

The 400 European troops were placed under unified command of a Marine major (Charlton Heston) and a Britisher (David Niven) and stood off the attackers until an international army arrived from the coast.

FAIRFAX THEATER

An enjoyable Italian farce, "Love and Larceny" made its debut this week.

It stars Vittorio Gassman as an amoral thief for whom no crime is too small or too large. He poses as a Santa Claus to pick up loose change and as a general to swindle a defense contractor. He's a Japanese bridegroom one minute and a Bolognese merchant the next.

ROSCOE E. POMEROY

Colonel Is Honored On Retirement

Col. Roscoe E. Pomeroy of Sausalito received a certificate of achievement on his retirement from the Army last weekend after 20 years of active duty.

He was cited for meritorious service as chief of the unit training and operations branch of Headquarters, 15th Army Corps, at the Presidio of San Francisco. Maj. Gen. Andrew R. Lolli, commanding general of the corps, made the presentation.

Colonel Pomeroy was assigned to the 15th Army Corps last March after duty in Thailand as director of intelligence, operations and training at Headquarters, Ninth Logistical Command.

He was commissioned through the Reserve Officers Training Corps at University of Washington and went on active duty in 1941. He served in Alaska and at various posts in the United States.

He and his family will continue to reside at 25 Rodeo Avenue, Sausalito.

Grapes In Ohio? Tests Being Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tests with about 38 varieties of grapes are being made by Ohio State University's Agriculture Extension Service to determine feasibility of turning parts of southern Ohio into a major grape-producing area.

Fruit specialist Eldon S. Banta of the university said research has resulted in part from continuing population expansion in northern Ohio, taking farm and vineyard land out of crop production.

San Rafael Found Least Expensive Area In County

Highest Marin Tax Paid By Mill Valley Residents

Of major communities in Marin County, San Rafael is the least expensive place, tax-wise, according to a tax rate sheet compiled by County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The highest taxes are paid in the City of Mill Valley, followed by Corte Madera and Larkspur.

The tax rate sheets are available to the public on request, Mitchell announced. "Simply address your request to Michael Mitchell, auditor-controller, Civic Center, San Rafael," he said.

The tax rate sheet shows that on the average in Marin County, 57 cents out of each tax dollar goes for schools. County government costs 25.2 cents, city government, 9.4 cents, and special districts 8.4 cents.

For purposes of illustration, the auditor-controller picks 12 representative code areas in the county to compare the tax rates, and the amounts of taxes on a "typical" $20,000 home.

For example, if you owned a $20,000 home in each of the following 12 communities, these are the total property taxes you would pay this year in each area (veterans' exemptions are not computed):

Tomales, $253.23 (last year it was $231.38); San Rafael, $380.19 (last year, $391.23); Sausalito, $425.72 (last year $416.53); Terra Linda, $430.33 (last year $445.97); Novato, $430.79 (last year $452.87); Marinwood, $437.69 (last year $472.65).

Tiburon, $451.95 (last year $448.27); Fairfax, $461.15 (last year $458.39); San Anselmo, $468.51 (last year $454.94); Larkspur, $473.11 (last year $455.63); Corte Madera, $479.55 (last year $480.93), and Mill Valley, $488.75 (last year $461.61).

Chemical Progress

NEW YORK (UPI)—The chemical industry in what is now the United States started modestly in 1635 when John Winthrop Jr. opened a plant in Boston to manufacture saltpeter and alum. Now there are 13,500 chemical plants turning out about 10,000 products.
